Moroccan Riot Claims 9 Lives; Many Injured

Two Frenchwomen Are Among Dead; Troops Use Guns

PORT LYAUTEY, Morocco, Aug. 7 —UP— A Moroccan mob slit the throats of two French women Saturday and clashed with French troops in a battle here in which at least seven other persons were killed and 32 wounded.

Police said the French women still were unidentified, but that two other women, Moroccans identified as Mrs. M. Gundos and her daughter, Marcelle, were killed in the clash. Two other Moroccans and three Europeans were also killed.

The death toll was "provisional," police said and might mount as French troops tried to quell spreading riots in this French North African protectorate.

The Europeans killed were a French soldier and two civilians. There were two Europeans among the 32 wounded, police headquarters in Port Lyautey said.

The mob was demonstrating in support of its demand that exiled Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef be returned to rule Morocco and the French-supported Sultan Sidi Mohammed Moulay Ben Arafa be ousted.

A French security patrol trying to break up the spreading riot early Saturday afternoon fired on the attacking mob.

The demonstration began after a number of Moroccan tradesmen shut their shops and then were ordered to reopen by local police. The mob angered by the police order gathered in the streets, and the riot was touched off.

Army Seeking To Reform Dress Of Its Women-Folks

FRANKFURT, Aug. 7 (AP)—The U. S. Army let it be known today, gently but firmly, that it expects all wives and teen-agers of its vast forces in Europe to keep their straps up and their flaps down.

Top officers said what they are trying to do—without issuing a direct command—is to stop the girls from walking around in peek-a boo attire that's something less than dignified.

That goes for sunsuits, shorts, jeans one size tighter than the wearer, pin curlers and other devices.

First word of the Army's view came out of Frankfurt's command three days ago. Today it spread to Darmstadt, where the Northern Area Command put the edict into writing.

Fact is, senior officers for the European command said, the Army's displeasure over the street apparel of some dependent wives and daughters is old hat. They added that about 60,000 American families in Germany, France and other European nations, are affected.

It has been policy for a long time to demand proper street apparel from dependents, officers said, but the top brass was reluctant to make it a direct command.

In Frankfurt, Col. John H. Dilley did just that after word-of-mouth suggestions through the officer echelon failed to change the bare facts.

Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Herren of Dadeville, Ala., followed up Dilley's action by notifying all units of the Northern Area Command that dependents improperly dressed will be barred from post exchanges, sales stores, clubs and theaters.

"Cooperation of all commanders is requested in order to avoid embarrassment to potential violators," he said.

This way of going about it met the objections of one colonel's wife, for example, who commented:

"Why did they have to make it a command (in Frankfurt)? That only stirs up things."

Ellender Urges Fair Hearing

'Fringe' Charges Should Be Dropped In McCarthy Case, Sen. Stennis Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) — Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said today a committee set up to study censure charges against Sen. McCarthy should concentrate on a relatively few accusations, eliminating "fringe" charges against the Wisconsin Republican.

Stennis, a member of the six-man inquiry group, said the 46 charges—many of them overlapping—must be culled vigorously before an actual investigation begins.

"It is my belief that these charges must be reduced to a relative few that relate directly to McCarthy's conduct as a senator," Stennis said.

He did not elaborate as to what charges he would eliminate. However, some of them do not allege positive acts on the part of the senator, but charge that he permitted his investigative staff to engage in improper acts. Whether Stennis would rule such counts out of consideration was not stated.

Sen. Ellender (D-La) said tonight the "real issue" to be decided by the committee is whether McCarthy's conduct "brought discredit to the Senate."

Discussing the case in a talk prepared for radio broadcast to his Louisiana constituents, Ellender said "the nation deserves an unprejudiced answer." He said the Senate should not adopt any "shotgun charges."

"There are definitely two sides to the question," he continued, "and I desire to see both sides heard, and a fair and impartial verdict rendered.

"If the junior senator (from Wisconsin) has been guilty of wrongdoing such as the Senate has the power or obligation to punish, then he should be censured.

"But right or wrong, Sen. McCarthy deserves a fair hearing, and an opportunity to present his side of the case."

Ellender commented that he and McCarthy have not always seen eye to eye.

"I think that in numerous instances, judging from press reports, Sen. McCarthy has been guilty of high - handed methods, methods which at times have bordered on coercion and violation of due process," he said.

"I have disapproved Sen. McCarthy's holding one-man hearings on investigations into subversion and other matters. I have also believed it wrong that no Democratic member was present in order to either protest violations of Senate or committee rules, of due process, or to protect the rights of witnesses."

Nevertheless, Ellender went on, McCarthy should be given his day in court.

The Louisiana senator said the Senate has no business going into the circumstances surrounding a $10,000 fee McCarthy received from Luston Corp., a housing firm now defunct, in return for a housing

Farm Bill Vote In Senate Will Be Very Close

Both Sides Claim Victory On Eve Of Mon. Showdown

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) — Opposing leaders in the Senate battle over farm price supports said today that the first test late Monday may come on a proposal by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to flex supports up instead of down.

Both Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), who is leading the administration fight for flexible and lower supports, and Sen. Young (R-ND), who heads the group asking an extension of present rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity, said they will vote against McCarthy's amendment.

It proposes a flexible system beginning at 90 per cent of parity on basic crops and dairy products and extending up to not more than 100 per cent. That would convert ceilings of past farm supports into a floor.

Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices, conceived to be fair to the farmer in relation to the cost of basic things he buys.

The Senate has unanimously agreed to choke off its five days and nights of campaign-year farm oratory late Monday and began a series of votes under rules limiting the debate.

"I intend to vote for high price supports," McCarthy said, adding that if his amendment is beaten, "I shall support the straight 90 per cent of parity."

He said the proposals by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, which have strong backing of President Eisenhower, "would serve to impoverish the farmer" and might lead to a depression.

McCarthy can get a vote by calling up his amendment as a substitute for one offered by Aiken, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, which proposes supports ranging from 80 to 90 per cent of parity on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts.

By an 8-7 vote, Young and others on the committee recommended a one-year extension of the existing wartime 90 per cent supports on these basic crops.

Both Aiken and Young, in separate interviews, predicted victory for their rival programs, although both agree the Senate is nearly evenly divided, with the margin remaining from one to six votes.

Most Republicans are lined up for the Aiken amendment and most Democrats for extending the rigid

Jes' Ramblin'

Once more a group of Twin City and other Northeast Louisiana boys will be off for Pelican State which opens tomorrow on the campus of L. S. U. and will be in session until August 17. They are always chosen with care as to physical condition, character and scholastic ability. During their period at the capital city they will be students of the mechanism of government and will be given opportunity to learn real democratic citizenship.

The board of directors of Pelican State has among others on the staff H. Flood Madison, Jr. of Monroe and also from the Fifth district, Sam A. Orchard, also a local man and an enthusiast for this great farlooking project.

We are sure the boys selected will never forget the fact that they were chosen to receive the high honor of further study of real American citizenship in action. How badly needed this is at a time like the present! We wish these boys pleasure and profit, an experience that should have bearing on their entire lives.

Barkley, Cooper Are Nominated To Senate Position

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 7 (AP)—Republicans renominated Sen. John Sherman Cooper and Democrats nominated former Vice President Alben W. Barkley for the U. S. Senate in Kentucky primaries today.

The political magic of their names assured their success even though two candidates opposed Cooper and three Barkley.

Senator Cooper, 52, a Somerset lawyer, is seeking re-election, backed by President Eisenhower. Barkley, 76, of Paducah is out to recapture the Senate seat he held for 21 years before he was elected Vice President in 1948.

Earl C. Clements, a Democrat, is Kentucky's other senator.

Only a fraction of Kentucky's 1½ million registered voters turned out. Some observers predicted one of the lightest primary votes in the state's recent history. Polls closed at 5 p.m. local time.

Kentucky further set the stage for the Nov. election by choosing candidates for eight Congress seats and for one seat on the Court of Appeals, the Commonwealth's supreme tribunal.

This normally Democratic state has six Democrats and two Republicans in the House of Representatives. Seven of them sought renomination today.

Main interest in the congressional contests centered on a six-man race for the Republican nomination in the Eighth, traditional GOP stronghold in the southern mountain section. The decision of Rep. James S. Golden, Pineville Republican, to retire touched off the wide open race.

The six contestants are Eugene Siler of Williamsburg, GOP nominee for governor in 1951; State Sen. Ed P. Warinner of Albany; Daniel Boone Smith, commonwealth attorney in Harlan county; Pleas W. Mobley of Manchester, a member of the State Railroad Commission; Granville Thomas, and Evarts carpenter, and former Congressman W. Howes Meade of London.

In three congressional districts—the 1st and 2nd in western Kentucky and the 4th in south central Kentucky—the Republicans didn't enter candidates.

Epileptic Seizures Caused Death

Funeral Services Monday For Emilie Dionne, First Of Famed Quints To Die

CALLENDAR, Ont., Aug. 7 —UP— The body of Emilie Dionne was brought home to her grieving sisters Saturday a few hours after an autopsy disclosed her death was caused by the fourth in a series of epileptic seizures.

The 20-year-old quint died alone with her face buried in a convent pillow at Ste. Agathe, Que., as she gasped for breath during the last of the many attacks of "falling sickness" that had plagued her since she was three years old, an autopsy revealed in Montreal earlier Saturday.

Her final, fatal seizure was complicated by glandular disorders and lung congestion, according to the official report, issued after a friend of the family was reported to have sought unsuccessfully to prevent an autopsy.

The body was brought home in a hearse. Emilie's coffin was placed in the family chapel in the Dionne home and was to go on view Sunday. The funeral will be Monday.

The story of Emilie's 17-year-old bout with epilepsy was a closely-kept family secret until Saturday. Except for a near-fatal throat ailment suffered when she was three, Emilie always had been regarded as one of the hardier of the famed quints.

Her body was found Friday morning by a nun face down on a narrow convent bed, nearly 24 hours after she fell into a faint in

Mercury Reaches 101 Degrees Here

Ouachita parish residents sweltered again yesterday when the mercury climbed to 101 at approximately 3:30 p.m. The maximum temperature was a climb of 26 degrees from the low of 74, which was recorded early Saturday morning.

The weather forecast for Louisiana gave no indication of any break in the heat wave, but residents of Arkansas could expect some widely scattered thundershowers. In the Monroe area the weather is expected to be clear to partly cloudy. No showers were predicted either Sunday or Monday.

Girl Scouts Of America Deny Legion Charges

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Girl Scouts of America today denied charges by the Illinois American Legion that Girl Scout literature and some leaders are under "un-American influences."

The state convention of the Legion Friday approved a resolution of censure against the girls' organization and recommended that the war veterans' group withdraw "all efforts to secure contributions and membership for the Girl Scouts."

This withdrawal would last, the resolution said, "until such time as they restore the time honored American patriotic and historical ideals in its teaching to the American youth."

Specifically, the Legion said the 1953 Girl Scouts handbook "gives United Nations and one world citizenship precedence over American citizenship."

The charges were based on the Legion's contention the handbook did not list in its index references to the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights or to a chapter on United States citizenship. The Legion also said the 1953 edition of the handbook contained a chapter headed "One World" in which appeared the opening words of the United Nations charter and a statement urging Girl Scouts to support the UN.

The resolution also declared that writings by unnamed pro-Communist authors "have been highly recommended in an official Girl Scouts' magazine as authentic historic material."

Girl Scouts spokesmen in Chicago said changes in the handbook were made last spring and announced in the Congressional Record July 27 "clearing up in general points which have subjected us to misunderstanding."

The new printing will be completed this month, the scouts said, and distributed this fall.

Florence Otto, regional director of the scouts, said the omission from the index of listing for the Bill of Rights and the Constitution were "editorial errors."

She said there are references to both documents in the book and that scouts must recite the Bill of Rights to get a "My Government" merit badge.

Safe At Home After 36 Hours; Found In Auto

Stolen Vehicle Left Abandoned On Rural Road

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP) — Four-year-old Bruce Parker, victim of an accidental abduction that lasted more than 36 hours, was reunited late today with his joyous parents, unharmed and none the worse for his mysterious disappearance.

"My name is Bruce Parker. I'd like some orange juice," the blond child told Edward Diehl who found him.

"I didn't even cry. I'm ready to go home," he chattered later at a state police substation.

"Thank God, thank God," sobbed his mother, Mrs. Hilda Parker as she hugged and kissed her only child.

They returned later to their modest home on Monocacy St. The boy's father, Albert, 35, is a machinist's helper. The family lives in a quiet neighborhood of this eastern Pennsylvania steel-making city.

Bruce disappeared Thursday night while his mother and his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Haas, shopped for food in a supermarket in nearby Allentown. They had left Bruce in the car and the ignition keys in the lock.

Apparently, police said, a car thief saw the ready-to-go auto, climbed in and drove away without knowing of the boy passenger asleep in the back seat.

Bruce didn't know anything about his kidnapping, either.

He was found shortly before noon in the abandoned car, parked along a dirt road three miles from Lehighton and about 20 miles north of Bethlehem. State police asked him about "the man who drove you here?"

"No man drove me," the youngster replied. "My aunt Margaret did."

On that basis, police said, it seemed apparent that both kidnapper and kidnapped knew nothing about what was happening. The

Sealed Cabin To Simulate Conditions In Interplanetary Travel

U. S. Air Force Acquires Imitation Space Ship

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Air Force said today it has acquired its first imitation space ship —a nonflying sealed cabin for the study of human factors in passage through outer space.

The cabin, which looks more like a house furnace than a scientific device, has been delivered to the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Sas Antonio, Tex.

It is designed to give researchers at the Randolph Field institution most of the sensations they would experience on a flight of several hours or days in space.

Actually it is related to the low-pressure chambers in which Air Force specialists for some years have studied human reactions to the thin air in the stratosphere and beyond it.

But low-pressure or "altitude" chambers reproduce conditions in the air outside the craft. They tell the physiologist what happens when things go wrong and a pressurized plane loses its pressure.

The sealed cabin is designed to show what goes on inside the space ship, where a careful balance of atmospheric conditions must be artificially maintained.

Above 80,000 feet there is so little air that conventional pressurized cabins cannot be used—because present-day compressors cannot pump in enough air to prevent altitude sickness.

Furthermore, the air above 80,000 feet contains dangerous amounts of ozone, a gas harmful in high concentrations. Several test pilots in experimental rocket aircraft—William Bridgeman, Marine Lt. Col. Marion E. Carl, Air Force Maj. Charles E. Yeager—already have flown for brief intervals in this aeromedical twilight area.

Also, in a cabin sealed off from outside air, the occupant uses up oxygen at a rate of about 26 quarts an hour, at the same time exhaling carbon dioxide along with water vapor.

Thus the sealed cabin must carry sufficient oxygen, and chemicals to remove the excess carbon dioxide and water vapor—along with refrigerating equipment to control the heat thrown off by the body.

These are problems to be investigated under the immediate supervision of Dr. Hans-Georg Clamann, an authority on body functions at very high altitudes.

Clamann said he means to find out how little acclimatization a flyer can safely stand. At the moment, he said, he is thinking about a pressure equivalent to an altitude of 18,000 feet.

The Incas of Peru work without difficulty in the mines of the Andes at that altitude, Clamann said—and maybe America's space men of tomorrow can too.

Stocks Decline In Hectic Week; U. S. Bonds Off

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—The stock market declined this week in the most hectic five sessions in more than three years.

On Monday and Tuesday, the market appeared to be headed for its eighth consecutive weekly advance.

Wednesday started off like another record-breaker but then rumors began to filter through Wall Street that the Bethlehem Steel merger with Youngstown Sheet & Tube was falling through.

Profit-taking started among the steels and spread throughout the rest of the market. But such was the vigor of the market, helped mainly by demand for medium and low priced issues, that a recovery movement that day carried the market back almost to where it had begun.

Wednesday proved to be a crucial session in the week's developments because it produced a more cautious attitude on the part of many investors.

On Thursday the market became highly selective. Profit taking appeared among the high priced stocks. But buying of medium and low priced issues was plentiful enough to produce a completely mixed close.

After the market closed Thursday, the nation's third major automobile maker, Chrysler Corp., cut its dividend in half.

Friday morning, sell orders for Chrysler poured into brokerage houses.

When Chrysler opened nearly three hours after the start of business at 60¼ off 4⅝ points on 35,000 shares, another selling wave took place. This time the tape was late for 35 minutes and prices fell two, three and four points. Late in the afternoon, prices began to improve. But the market couldn't muster the buying power for another recovery.

Indications that the government may soon be in the market for new money sent U.S. Treasury bonds lower this week. Corporates turned in a mixed performance in the Bond Market.

Ancient siege engines threw stones up to 600 pounds in weight.

4 Hi-Y Leaders To Attend Meet At Blue Ridge

Four local Hi-Y leaders from the Twin Cities Y. M. C. A. will attend the Blue Ridge Hi-Y Tri-Hi-Y leaders training congress to be held this summer at Blue Ridge, N. C., from August 15 through 21.

The estate embraces 1600 acres of land and more than 40 buildings, including hotel and cottages with accommodations for 700 guests. It is located 14 miles east of Asheville. It was organized in 1912 and is now owned and operated by the Y. M. C. A.'s of the South.

This Congress is designed for the leaders of the clubs from senior high schools. Its main objective is to prepare the club members and advisors for leadership in local Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs in the Hi-Y movement. Special emphasis will be placed upon the following: (1) Interpreting what the Hi-Y movement really is, (2) Explaining the effects of different kinds of leadership, (3) Instruction in the specific skills needed by each officer, (4) Providing officers with an opportunity to practice these skills in actual club settings, (5) Demonstration of good club meetings, (6) Discussing club standards around organization, membership, program, finance and service, (7) Experiencing effective Committee action, (8) Interpreting the spirit, meaning and urgency of a teenage group working to create, maintain and extend high stadards of Christian character throughout the school and community, (9) Building of a rich experience of Hi-Y fellowship and friendship across the southern area, and (10) Acquainting club leaders with the outreach of the Hi-Y Movement in the Y. M. C. A.

Charles A. Wood, Jr., local Y.M. C. A. general secretary, will serve as one of the workshop leaders at Blue Ridge. These workshops will embrace such club helps as interpretation, inductions, rituals, service projects, program building, club relationships, membership practices, devotional programs, methods and techniques.

Local delegates who will attend this outstanding Congress are Earnest Carter, Karl Thompson, Rolland Oldenberg and Charles A. Wood, Jr. Present plans call for the local delegation to make the trip by automobile, leaving for Blue Ridge Friday evening, August 13 and arriving back in Monroe Sunday evening, August 22.

Studebaker Plans To Close Plant Within 60 Days

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 7—UP— Studebaker Corp. Saturday served a 60-day contract termination notice on the UAW—CIO.

It meant that if no new agreement is reached before that time, about 11,000 workers at the auto manufacturing plant will be thrown out of work and the plant will close down.

Studebaker officials said they have "no other course to take" since members of the union two nights ago rejected a wage-cutting adjustment designed to put Studebaker in a better competitive position.

Harold S. Vance, Studebaker president, and Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the board, said they hoped "there can be prompt reconsideration by the union of the problems facing the company."

Most union officers were out of the city for the weekend, but a spokesman said the local's executive board probably will meet Monday to discuss the situation.

T. Forrest Hanna, local vice president, said the union was informed of the company's plans at a meeting with management Friday.

Hanna said the union "tried to see whether the company would back up on any of its demands." He quoted Vance and Hoffman as saying: "If we back up any more, we'll be out of business in a matter of months."

Union leaders and the company tried to get workers to agree to a 10 to 15 per cent wage reduction to help Studebaker out of its slump. The proposal was overwhelmingly rejected.

Hoffman said Studebaker will live up to terms of its contract for the 60-day period. He added that the firm "cannot continue to operate except under conditions which makes its labor cost competitive with major producers in the auto industry."

Studebaker officials said the union's negotiating committee held out for provisions which would leave Studebaker workers better paid than others in the industry. The company agreed to the provisions, but they were voted down.

Pakistan May Be Member Of Asian Anti-Red Pact

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 —UP— Diplomatic quarters reported Saturday that strongly anti - Communist Pakistan may be added to the list of seven nations tenatively lined up for membership in the proposed Southeaast Asia defense treaty.

The treaty, which the United States has been seeking for months as a bulwark against further Red aggression in the Indo-China area, will be negotiated at a conference to be held at Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines, in September. A formal announcement of plans for the conference may be made late next week.

Diplomats now foresee a formal pact of eight nations pledged to defend Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific against either direct or indirect aggression. A major feature of the plan is increased U.S. economic assistance to raise living standards in the area as a buttress against Communist expansion via internal subversion.

Signatory nations would pledge to consider any extension of alien domination in the area as a threat to their independence and security. They would react "in accordance with their constitutional processes." In the case of the United States, that means Congress alone would have the right to declare war.

Diplomats said recent developments had improved the chances that Pakistan would join the United States, Britain, France, Thailand, the Philippines, Australia, and New Zealand at the Baugio conference, which is expected to start during the week of Sept. 6 or Sept. 13.

They said Pakistan has voiced keen interest in the plan while India, Indonesia, Ceylon and Burma have said they were not interested.

The State Department hope is that the latter four countries might decide to join when they see the emphasis of economic co-operation. At the least, it is hoped that they will not actively oppose the pact.

Psychiatrist To Examine Woman Who Shot Friend

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—Three psychiatrists have been named to help authorities learn why Mrs. Doris Gloss, 40, shot and killed the woman she called her "best friend."

Keith C. Sorenson, San Mateo county district attorney, said no formal charges would be filed against Mrs. Gloss in the death Thursday of 36-year-old Mrs. Patricia Oberhaus at least until Monday.

Charles F. Hutchins, attorney for Mrs. Gloss, said that in a meeting yesterday with him and her husband, Robert, Mrs. Gloss came to a full realization of the tragedy.

Mrs. Oberhaus, mother of two children, was killed almost instantly in front of her home here. Witnesses said she and Mrs. Gloss were conversing when Mrs. Gloss suddenly pulled out a revolver and fired three times into the woman's chest.

Later Mrs. Gloss told Sorenson "I couldn't have done it because I had no reason to do it and I have no recollection of it."

South Korea To Curb Drive On Truce Inspectors

SEOUL, Sunday, Aug. 8 (AP) — South Korea has agreed to tone down—at least for the time being—its efforts to get the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission out of the country.

Prime Minister Pyun Yung Tai told a news conference yesterday that demonstrations against Communist Polish and Czech armistice inspectors will be curbed. South Korea, he said, will continue to seek dissolution of the commission but will "avoid forcible means until all other peaceful means are exhausted."

Pyun's statement followed recept of a United States protest against recent violent demonstrations against Polish and Czech members of the commission. He said the U.S. note also contained a suggestion that South Korea cooperate with the United States "on an acceptable basis" to bring about dissolution of the commission.

A week ago three homemade bombs were thrown into an NNSC inspection team compound and bullets were fired into another. No one was injured.

No demonstrations against the truce inspectors have been reported since last Tuesday.

'Cowboy Senator' Of Past Days To Seek Comeback

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 7 (AP)—Idaho's onetime "cowboy senator," Glen Taylor, tries for a political comeback Tuesday in the feature of the state's primary election.

He is entered in a three - way race for the Democratic nomination to oppose U.S. Sen. Henry C. Dworshak, Republican, who hasn't taken time to campaign for the nomination.

Opposing Taylor, 1948 vice presidential nominee of the Progressive party, are state Rep. Claude Burtenshaw, who lost to Dworshak for a four-year term in 1950, and Alvin McCormack, Lewiston farmer and a Department of Agriculture official during the Truman administration.

What About It, Senator Flanders?

This newspaper has come into an amazing and very terrifying file of information. It involves several highly placed public officials and national figures. It has already been passed to the office of Senator McCarthy. It involves a strange oriental religious cult. Senator Flanders' name is mentioned as a possible member. The ramifications of this are manifold to say the least. Among other members is former Vice President Wallace, the progressive. It is reported that numerous high ranking Communists are involved. There may be nothing to it, Senator Flanders, but, can't you explain? Tell the American people about all of your connections before you attack a proven patriot, one fearless man whose record of anti-communism is known. It is up to you, Senator Flanders.

Fluoridation— Why Not An Election?

The problem of Fluoridation is presently about to "reach a peak" in the Twin Cities with few people even realizing that such is the case. The health authorities are attempting to have the city council pass Fluoridation for the City of Monroe.

The problem of Fluoridation is a complex one. Human beings clearly depend on two sources (among many others) for its continued existence on the Earth. Water and air. In past years, the people of the Earth have been content with water as long as it is clear and pure. The air, of course, can hardly be changed.

However, there have been attempts in recent years to change the water, to add chemicals which "help the teeth." At this time, it appears that there will be an attempt to put this Fluoridation deal across. It will cost a sizable amount to Monroe taxpayers, estimated by some to reach 15,000 to 20,000 dollars. The project has already been turned down by numerous cities as injurious or detrimental to the users of city water.

The water in this city, in comparison to other cities, tastes good. How it tastes and what it does are unfortunately two different and unrelated subjects. No plumber in this city will guarantee the life of a hot water heater. The radiators of autos are subject to severe corrosion. Will the addition of another substance help the situation?

Fluoride supporters say it will. They say that it will protect, and in fact, save the teeth of some children. What will it do to other children and adults?

The addition of Fluorides would amount to the city adding drugs to the water.

Whether they are harmful or not is at present, not the case—why not permit all the people in the city to vote on the question? Is the health office and the group of Fluoride supporters afraid that it will not pass if put to a vote of the people? This problem is one for all the people, operating in a Republican form of government to decide. Fluoridation is still an experiment. So far, only the good side of it has been presented. All that can be said of a favorable nature is that it will help some children's teeth.

People in Shreveport are fighting Fluoridation and presently have an injunction against its installation. With the following reprints, at least a part of the other side can be heard. It is interesting to note also that Oscar R. Ewing, former Commissar of Medicine in the United States is at present, attorney for ALCOA, a major producer of Fluorides for such installation as is presently planned for Monroe. He is an ardent backer of Fluoridation.

Here are a few interesting facts concerning Fluoridation. It is believed that all the people should be allowed to vote on the question. After all, all the people will be involved.

An article in Chemical Week, July 7, 1951 refers to "Water Boom for Fluorides," stating that the only ones definitely known to benefit from Fluoridation programs are chemical companies and equipment firms it says further: "Only one percent of the nation's water is now treated, thus the market potential has Fluoride chemical makers goggle-eyed, but any apathy or opposition from the public is made up for by the USPHS zeal in drumming up the program. It is asking for federal money to develop interest and there is talk of seeking federal subsidization of water treatment."

"Medical Progress and Dental Decay" is the title of an enlightening article by H. H. Newmann, M. D., New York City, Columbia University, which appeared in the N. Y. State Journal of Medicine July 15, 1951. Dr. Neumann states, "it is not justified to tack high hopes on fluorine." He explains further: "Fluorine has been reported to reduce cavities in children's teeth. While introduction of Fluorine should be welcome for want of anything more effective, it is not justified to place high hopes on it. Even if it is effective in a sense, its deficiency is certainly not the cause of decay, as some areas with very little fluorine in the water have been found to be relatively free from caries such as in the Mezquital valley in Mexico or in Naples, Italy.

The American Journal of Public Health, August 1951, declares that Boyd and Wessels state that "Many fundamental questions relating to dental caries as a human disease remain unanswered. Also that original fluoride experiments are incomplete."

A large number of cities have rejected fluoridation, and some having used it have abolished it. Only last week after a trial of one and a half years, the large city of San Diego, Calif., voted to remove Fluoridation from its water supply.

It is reported that as many as 25 cities of the nation have rejected fluoridation as something that is not assured to be beneficial to the public of all ages.

Is Marshall Really A Patriot?

Former Secretary of War Woodring has released a letter to a friend who then passed it to Senator McCarthy. The letter is severely damaging to George Catlett (With One Stroke of a Pen, I've Disarmed Chiang) Marshall. It stated that the former political General would "sell out his own grandmother for personal advantage."

The letter was submitted by McCarthy to the Senate as part of a return on Senator Flanders charges that McCarthy should be "censured" for attacking Marshall.

This newspaper did not bother to categorically take Flanders' charges as they were in the main, not worth consideration. Marshall's record has been at numerous occasions, editorially described by the Morning World. It does not believe that Marshall is a traitor, but that he was confused.

Whether or not Marshall would sell out his own grandmother for personal advantage can never be known in that the good lady is deceased, and such would merely rest on the conscience of Marshall's own heart.

However, the fact still remains. Marshall went to China as the personal envoy of Harry Truman. His trip was set up to attempt a reconciliation of the Communist Chinese and the government of Generalissimo Chiang or the Central Government of the Republic of China.

Marshall's trip was ill advised to begin with. One should not be ordered to attempt to reconcile bankers with bank robbers.

In any case, Marshall had orders to "settle the problem." On three separate occasions, he demanded Chiang sign an armistice with the Communists in the North. Upon each armistice, the Communists were able to use the delay to take over more of the Chinese nation. Finally, Chiang refused to adhere to Marshall's final request that the Communists be admitted to the Central Government on an equal basis with that of the Kuomintang, or Chiang's organization.

The reason was tragically simple. Would the President of the United States desire the Communists to be admitted to the Federal Government and the congress on an "equal basis?" However, Marshall hearing of Chiang's refusal (no one refuses Generals, at least, some Generals) ordered the supplies paid for by the United States Congress and people, supplies which might have saved the Chinese nation for the Central Government, cut off. As he said it, with a stroke of his pen, he cut off Chiang.

Marshall's entire history is a confusing one. It was detailed by Senator McCarthy several years ago in his book, "The Story of General George Marshall." The book has not been denied by Marshall or any other thinking citizen or public official because they know it to be the truth. However, the book has been attacked and smeared as per usual.

It was Marshall, many people will remember, who kept from President Roosevelt the complete and correct intelligence reports during the Yalta conference. It was Marshall, as Roosevelt's chief military advisor who approved the Yalta agreement as set forth by Hiss, Gromyko and Sir Gladwin Jebb. Why did Marshall ignore an intelligence report as was compiled by at least fifty of his brother officers, all of them with the rank of Colonel or above, a report which strongly urged a course just the opposite as was followed at Yalta?

Why did Marshall say himself, "As Chief of Staff, I armed 39 anti-Communist divisions. Now, with a stroke of a pen, I disarm them?" Who persuaded Marshall to open the Kalgan Mountain Pass so that the Chinese Communists could make direct contact with the Russians thus obtaining supplies and arms with which to overrun all of China?

Who asked Marshall to do this?

There are many other terrible ramifications of this Marshall situation, not the least of which is the statement made by the President at his regular news conference last week. He "emotionally" described Marshall as a great patriot. This newspaper sympathizes with the President. It realizes that Mr. Eisenhower is placed in a fearful position.

Here is George Marshall, the very man who promoted him from the rank of Major to that of General status, the man most responsible for his advance in the service and partially responsible for his present position under severe if not truthful attack.

Here is Marshall, one of the President's closest personal friends and advisors under attack. What to do? Why, the answer is obvious, leap to his defense. Thus, the statement.

On the other hand, the President must be aware of Marshall's past. A similar situation is being realized by more people than President Eisenhower. These are trying days. They are days when one must turn on even his friends and horrible enough, his relatives, in this battle against the onrushing tide of the Marxist church. The President must realize that friendship cannot stand in the way of his nation. The truth must come out no matter who it may hurt.

At present, the Wisconsin Senator, adopting an attitude of "let the chips fall where they may" is doing this. The "chips" have hurt the President. However they were necessary chips.

The Monroe Morning World does not agree with the President in his analysis of George C. Marshall, it sympathizes with him.

McClellan's Squeak

Senator McClellan won by only a squeak in his bid for renomination in Arkansas. Since his return to Washington, his friends say he was disappointed with the left wing backing which he had expected when he turned on McCarthy and "cooperated" with "liberal" commentators. Evidently, left wingers are few in Arkansas and a "reactionary" role might have gotten him more support.

One federal bureau in Washington has a press agent for each 66 workers. Perhaps it needs them.

The World Council Of Churches

Emory University, Ga.

Editor, Morning World:

Have just finished reading your most interesting and thought provoking editorials on the World Church Council.

Congratulations to you on the facts presented and the straight forward way in which you present them. You are unbiased and whether one agrees with you or not, you are fair and true to your convictions. Such warnings as you sound are certainly needed, not only in church, but in labor, state, radio and TV and moving pictures. We are not aware of the real dangers of Communism. I sincerely wish we had more editors that would take the strong stand you do on moral and spiritual issues. As you say, there are worlds of underground Christians in Russia, but I agree with you that they would not be permitted to attend meetings in the U. S.

Many good and wise men are caught in the Communists well planned programs, organizations, fronts and propaganda. This was certainly true of Bishop Oxnam. He has since spoken to groups of ministers, warning them not to be taken in as he was. The Federal Council of Churches of Christ has done a world of good and stands for the same high principles you do. There have been radical leaders in it, just as you have some editors that are off color. I have known Jack McMichael. He was one of our fine boys at Camp Glisson for years. He is one of those type persons who jumps at conclusions and acts before he thinks. He has been misled and too radical on a number of occasions. He made a poor showing in Washington. To be honest, I feel sorry for him. As to the World Church Council, I do not know enough about it to either defend or challenge it. My work is strictly of a different nature now.

Council Of Churches Is Working For Unity

Vidalia, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am sure a great number of people were wondering when the local press would mention the great meeting to be held in Evanston, Ind. Had it been of no consequence, or a great ball game, even a big labor union get-together, it would have had considerable notice long before the date of meeting.

Had your editorials on the World Council of Churches come out of a clear sky, especially just after your plea for 'return of religion in the public schools,' I would have been amazed. But things have been building up to give you a stump from which to wave your arms and beat your chest before an open - mouth public, so to speak. At this time, it is quite easy for every loud speaker to draw a crowd, especially if certain personalities are to be the theme.

Your championing of Senator McCarthy has been, in the face of American reaction toward him, something to think about. You have the right as an American to pin wings on him and a tail on others, to feel that everybody else is out of step but you. But when the great Protestant groups of America and their leaders and their earnest efforts toward spiritual peace and co-operation is attacked as a hot bed of communism, or led by those who are communist sympathizers and saying the common man has no voice to protect himself, you have gone too far, with all your research into the past.

To show how little you appreciate or understand what this is all about, as I read your editorials, not one delegate there from the Protestant groups, round the world but is there by election and represents the will of both great and small local churches. You seem to forget that Protestantism represents American Democracy in action. No cut and dried policy, no dictator to say this far and no farther. They long since learned to keep the reins in check. Faith in God Almighty is a marvelously inspired freedom these people will not lose.

You can't crush every man's religion no matter where he is or behind what kind of curtain. The ancient Egyptians, the Greeks nor the Romans could do it; the ancient Chaldeans and Persians tried it. The Lions Den, the fiery furnace, the cross, the inquisition and the stake are symbols of man's inhumanity to man in the effort to fetter mans' spiritual powers and ideals. Such talk as in your editorials of July 28-29 about the National Council of Churches and the World Council smacks of the same efforts and tactics as the communists use to discredit it in the peoples' minds the religious efforts of unity.

Just who is afraid of such unity? Not long ago in a cartoon-"They'll Do It Every Time?" an office group watched a disheveled secretary walking toward the bosses office, their comments of "no personality, no style, is the reason she can't catch a man?" Following her came a secretary dressed to the nth degree, same group said, 'Out to catch a man; disgraceful; her mind not on her business, etc.!" From some there is criticism of disunity among Protestants, let them try to get together and from the same direction comes more criticism.

In some of the so-called free world any one who believes in freedom of spiritual thought is classed as a socialist or perhaps a communist. But strange to say in those countries where the mind is free the communists have no foothold. As to those countries the allies turned over to the protection of the Iron Curtain after World War II, who can definitely say you can kill a man's soul by shutting him behind that curtain!

The World Council may not be perfect, but is working for unity in the religious and spiritual life of the world. 'As a man thinketh in his heart so is he!' was not idly said. Of course, the great groups cannot now agree on many points, but as the United Nations working for political unity cannot agree on many points the idea is well worth the effort. No nation is giving up her sovereignty by joining the U. N. so no church is giving up its freedom, but out of the meeting of 141 groups, ways and means are being sought and discussed by great and learned men for a close co-operation in the great spiritual uplift of mankind. The U. N. would do well to have a delegate there and perhaps get a shot in the arm to make it stronger for the times ahead.

Such a great body of people meeting from all over the world would feel rather let down if there were no criticism, good or bad. Christ asked his Disciples: "Who do men say I am? Suppose the answer had been, "No comments!" Remember what the wise teacher Gamaliel said? 'If this be of God no man can stop it, but if of man it will die of itself." Christian men and women of stamina and courage take such criticism in their stride, for God built a firm foundation for his church to stand on and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. That includes criticism or worse. So I think the national, world, and woman's councils will survive all this, as well as certain great souls who work for spiritual world peace.

MRS. G. L. CAGLE

Letter To Sen. Flanders

Glenwood Springs, Colo.

Senator Ralph Flanders

Senate Office Building

Washington, D. C.

Many of our members are disturbed over your attacks on Senator McCarthy. To us he is a great and sincere fighter against Communism and for freedom. He is the only senator to fight for the release of our enslaved sons and husbands still being held prisoners in violation of the Panmunjom truce. That among other things gives evidence of his sincerity, because making that fight for the GIs could not possibly bring him any political advantage: it can only bring him a vindictive counterattack from the administration, which wants the GI-hostage issue forgotten.

We notice that as a general rule those who attack McCarthy (aside from the people who merely parrot what they hear) have either been soft toward the Communists or have been connected either directly or indirectly with some profitable deals with the Communists-like the British, for example.

We certainly hope you may prove an exception to that rule, but you do not encourage our hope by failing to explain away your alleged connection with Jones and Lamson, who are reported to have made profitable deals with the Reds in the matter of machine tools. We are under the distinct impression that machine tools, American made and some by Jones and Lamson, turned out many of the weapons which killed our boys in Korea. I used to live in Springfield, Vt., so the name Jones and Lamson is familiar to me.

We would be most happy to hear from you either that you never had any connecton with Jones and Lamson, or that Jones and Lamson never furnished the Reds the wherewithal to make weapons to kill our sons.

We would also like to hear from you, in the event that it turns out you did not profit from business with the Reds, why you have not, as McCarthy has, fought for the liberation of our GIs still being held slaves by the Red Chinese.

EUGENE R. GUILD,

Capt. U. S. A., Ret. National Director, Fighting Homefolks of Fighting Men.

(Editor's Note — Our appreciation to Capt. Guild for releasing for publication his personal letter to Senator Flanders.)

Postal Workers Fight With Cost Of Living

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The postal employees of the country have continued to lag behind other workers in their fight to keep abreast of the cost of living. To have the purchasing power that these employees had in 1939 they need $781. They have a bill in Congress to provide for an $800 increase which has been whittled down to a 5 per cent or 7 per cent increase. This will mean about $200 per employee, if it is passed.

The postmaster general has taken particular delight in telling the country as a whole that the postal employees are trying to raid the federal treasury. By innuendo and misstatements of facts he has tried to leave the impression that these employees are a bunch of thieves. Then you read in the papers that the Postmaster General says that morale in the postal service is higher than it has ever been in history.

The Postmaster General has been condemned by many of the most respected members of Congress for his misuse of postal funds to publicize his plan to reclassify postal employees. His plans are to ultimately cut the wages of the vast number of faithful employees and raise the salaries of a favored few.

I think it is a shame the way this man has intimidated the Postmasters and other employees all over the country in trying to get his plan over. He has sent letters of charges to postmasters in different parts of the country and that particular postmaster must get his Congressman to support the Postmaster General's plan or the charges would be carried through.

This is not something that is going on in Russia but right here in the U. S. A.

MRS. OPAL WHITTINGTON.

The 'Advance'

Los Angeles, Calif.

Editor, Morning World:

I am very much impressed with an editorial which appeared in your paper on July 9. You refer to a periodical known as the "Advance." It is perhaps a confession of ignorance for me to admit that I do not know what this periodical is or where it is published. Would you kindly enlighten me.

May I go on record in this letter as saying that your editorial is one of the finest and most courageous, logical and intelligent editorials that I have seen in any daily newspaper for some time.

STEPHEN GOODYEAR.

(Editor's Note — The "Advance" is not a periodical but a left-wing, One World movement inside the GOP)

Asks Friends To 'Wake Up' And 'Think Fast'

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

After several exchanges of views, I find that you and I are in complete accord and agreement on many vital subjects pertaining to our freedom and welfare. The most vital of all is getting the U. S., out of the U. N., and the U. N. out of the U. S., and next is that the federal government, from the executive to the judiciary have become meaningless to the American people as a bulwark for the preservation of American freedom and liberty. With a few exceptions on each side of the house: we have no more party politics in Washington any more. Those of them that are not full color red are pink. At least there are enough pinks and reds among them to hold the "old liners" off shore. This morning I and a friend were talking and he remarked, "they are going to keep on untill they get us." I replied, "No, they will not keep on, they have us already; they have beaten Eisenhower's and Dulles's heads until their ears flop down like hound's ears." Evidence of this is France's "give away" in Indochina, and old Boss Winnie's blunt assertion to Eisenhower that "Red China will be admitted to the U. N. wehther or not it suits him." Now then, if that isn't a direct kick in the seat of Eisenhower's pants, what would you call it?

No, we don't have party politics in the United States any more. The original Democrat party disappeared in the amalgamation of socialist, communist, laborites, tammany hall, and democrats sponsored by Franklin D. Roosevelt. And the Republican party has been swallowed up by the very same influence, "the Republican Advance," and entailed into the same volume of corruption in Lake Success which is more than thirty stories high, the U. N. I hold that it is high time for the "true blue" American people to get together and organize an independent Republican - Democrat political party and divorce the United States from every alliance with U. N., and every other form of subversion by amending the constitution in accordance with the Bricker amendment, and make it impossible for the President and senate to deliver our country into the hands of our enemies. And also an amendment repealing section I, of article 3, and limit the terms of the judiciary to four years with overlapping terms of two years the same as in the senate, and employ every legal technique to rid the government of pinks and reds.

The reason why I am so insistant that the constitution should be drastically amended is because our freedom, liberty, security of our homes, fortunes, and everything that we could hope for, rests in the hands of sixty-five men in Washington. Sixty-four senators and the President holds the power to agree by treaty, to setting the U. N. up as a supreme world government with a world congress composed of representatives from every nation under the sun, and a world president. Now then friends, please wake up, and think fast; consider the predicament we would be in if we were brought under the ruling power of a hostile world; with old boss Winnie, Malenkov, or Mao Tse Tung, presiding as president. Friends in the name of rightousness, please wake up and let's get moving, and try to get out of the United Nations before it is too late. It's time to be serious.

Short Speech In Honor Of Roy Cohn

New York.

Editor, Morning World:

Following your editorials on Senator Flanders, I thought you might be interested in the enclosed short speech made by me last night at the dinner in honor of Roy Cohn at the Hotel Astor. You may have noticed reports of this dinner in the New York papers which accurately reported 2,000 persons present at the dinner in the Grand Ballroom of the Astor, and more than 5000 turned away after tickets were sold out something over a week ago. There were eight to 10 thousand persons outside the Astor last night to get a glimpse of Roy Cohn and Senator McCarthy and a couple of hundred anti-Cohn-McCarthy pickets, who were booed by the crowd.

I enclose this copy of my own speech because the little story told about my call on Senator Flanders is exactly accurate, although told in lighter vein. Whether Senator Flanders was financially "interested" in the business meaning of the word, with Stefansson in the moose farm; or whether he used the word "interested" in the non-Lusiness sense, I do not know.

ALFRED KOHLBERG.

Speech of Alfred Kohlberg, National Chairman, American Jewish League Against Communism, Inc. at dinner honoring Roy M. Cohn, Grand Ballroom, Hotel Astor, July 28, 1954.

Two years ago our League honored you, Roy, and ourselves by presenting you with an award. Today we are happy to be here to join in honoring you again.

But I want to take the two or three minutes alloted me to give you a warning.

Roy, stay away from the U. S. Senate. I say this entirely without prejudice. In fact, some of my best friends are Senators. But beware of them, Roy. They are just too mixed up.

To them it seems perfectly O.K. for the Senior Senator from Vermont to call the Junior Senator from Wisconsin a rising Hitler and an anti-Semite; but it's all wrong for the Junior Senator from Wisconsin to say a few unkind words about Fifth Amendment Communists. It's much too confusing for a simple country boy from New York. In fact, our dear old Senator Lehman seems to think that loyalty to the Constitution is fulfilled by invoking the Fifth Amendment.

Let me illustrate further by the sad case of Senator Flanders. Four years ago I called on him to inquire about a farm in Vermont jointly owned by Owen Lattimore and Vlajilmar Stefansson. As soon as I mentioned their names, Senator Flanders told me that they were friends of his; and that anybody who called Stefansson a Communist was cock-eyed. He knew him intimately, he said, and his ardent anti - Communism was proven by his attempt to start moose culture in northern Vermont; an enterprise in which the Senator had been interested. If it had succeeded, he said, it would have put the Soviet Union out of the moose - culture business, and knocked old Joe Stalin for a loop.

So lay off the Senate, Roy. If you don't, I'll expect to see you end up running a moose culture farm in northern Manhattan, with Lattimore and Stefansson as unpaid consultants, and Bob Stevens, Freddie Woltman, and James Wechsler as stable boys.

If you get that confused, Roy, try to make it Bull Mooses, of which I was one of the founders in California in 1910. Then Archie Roosevelt and I will go to work for you.

Senator Flanders could advise you where to sell the Bull Moose or Bull Meese, or whatever is the proper term, and he'd make a wonderful outlet for the by-products.

God bless you, Roy. We'll never let you down.

Many Souls Cannot See The Forest For The Trees

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

After reading your newspaper for several months, especially your editorials and the letters to the editor, I have come to sense a fallacy in some of the explanations given for the situations dealt with.

You will undoubtedly remember, at least recall the Middle Ages, prior to the Protestant Reformation, and the extent to which the church permeated the entire being of men, their thoughts and actions. This control was so rigid and respected that the church was in a position to stymy all activities that it felt were undesirable. Foremost among these was the exploration of the universe. As a result, the notions that were most prevalent in regards to the universe were quite erroneous. The Cosmos was considered as incomprehensible, unintelligible and not to be explored. Anyone venturing to come to grips with the nature of the universe, etc. was sure to be excommunicated as a heretic. But the Reformation, in effect, destroyed this universal control of the church and men were free to explore the universe, many were surprised to learn that the old notions were false. Here with the planting of the seeds of modern science, men became aware of the fact that things were not as they seemed. But the fruits of those seeds there planted, being sound truth, have enabled us to understand and develop much more fully.

It is to be regretted that, though the social sciences are just as old as the natural sciences, they have lagged far behind in development. As a result, many notions that we have in regards to human affairs and relations are highly absurd and erroneous. Hence, the social sciences are somewhat still in the "dark ages." In the middle ages, God was the dictum whereby men explained all that was unknown or baffling. Now we have a new dictum — communism. I have seen this dictum used in ways that it concealed the truth that we were trying to ascertain.

I am not here asserting that communism is not a reality nor an active force in the world today. Far from it. Recent events have shown that communism is perhaps more active and real than any other idea or power in the west. But still I cannot help feeling that we are attributing much more etiologically to communism than it deserves. Several letters to the editor have honored the above axiom by attributing the so - called "Negro-problem" in this country to the "Communists attempt to conquer the world." Other letters and editorials have established communism as the cause for the aspirations of the peoples of Asia and Africa for political independence, economic security and self - determination. But does not history show that these problems were present long before the advent of communism? Does not a flick of the imagination reveal that these problems, if not solved in the meantime, will still be with us even if communism were to vanish from the face of the earth? I fear sincerely that many of us will be extremely shocked in the future to learn that in establishing an etiological relationship between communism, nationalism and the Negro's aspirations, we were laboring under the wrong assumption.

It was Dr. R. Scheville, an eminent historian, who said that "A people that has resolved to be free can never be conquered." To oppose the aspiration of a people that has thus resolved is not to eliminate it but only to delay it. This is important. I remind you of it only to prevent you from being like too many unfortunate souls who cannot see the forest for the trees.

Louisiana Dentists Favor Fluoridation

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

When offering advice pertaining to matters of health, one should be extremely careful as to facts. Unless the advice offered comes from one qualified to give such advice, it should be ignored. Of course the only wise policy to follow is to leave such matters in the hands of those who are qualified. Regarding the out of state letter published in your Sunday edition, written by Myra V. Smith, I would like to comment on one of the inaccuracies.

It was stated that dentists are sharply divided on fluoridation. Such is not the case, for dentists agree in almost perfect unanimity on the merits and desirability of this health measure. In the Louisiana State Dental Society, when the vote was taken, there was not one single dentist opposed to fluoridation. This same sentiment prevails in 48 states. This fact can be easily verified by anyone interested. Facts alone should be considered — not fancy.

If there existed even the slightest doubt in the minds of the men composing the Am. Medical Assc. or any other health group endorsing fluoridation, it would have been a heinous crime of the highest magnitude to lend it their names, which every recognized health group in the land has done. Miss Smith does not grasp the high-mindedness of such organizations, dedicated only to the public good. To suppose that these groups, recognized as the very finest in the world, would perpetuate a gigantic hoax on the American people as Miss Smith suggests, is too fantastic to imagine.

The day would be a sad one indeed for the people of this country, if it ever came to pass that the expert advice of the wonderful health organizations of the U. S. A. would be ignored and give way to unqualified opinions of individuals or of biased groups. There are biased groups opposing fluoridation, who have in the past opposed health measures now saving human lives.

The collective health organizations of the nation have advised fluoridation. Results carefully charted over the years, once again prove them right in the matter of fluoridation.

Dub's Masterpiece

Calhoun, La.

Editor, Morning World:

We, a group of true Southerners from Calhoun, La., feel it our duty to inform the readers of your paper that we do not see this question of segregation in the same light as one W. B. "Dub" Humble, whose discussion of this matter appeared in your paper of August 1. We must admit that Mr. Humble is without question, very intelligent since with only two years in college he suddenly realizes that he has the problem completely solved. We are sure that he is so well versed in this matter and has traveled so widely and contacted so many races of people until he has all our problems solved. Well, maybe not completely solved but almost. Really and truly, the ones of us who know "Dub" only consider the source and let the whole matter drop.

Mr. Humble, we noticed that you questioned Mr. Hilton about his qualifications for some of the statements he made concerning segregation. May we ask you the same question? We are sure that you have in your many travels made contact with most all of our problems and you are so well qualified to solve them for us. It is very doubtful that you have traveled much further than 100 miles in any direction from Calhoun, with the exception of the time a group of good Calhoun citizens paid your way north to receive a little of the "tommy - rot" you published in your masterpiece.

Mr. Humble, it seems quite evident that you are not too well trained in navigation since you seem to have missed your destination by a few miles when you first enrolled in Louisiana Tech. Seeing this thing as you do, it seems that your final destination should have been Grambling College. We know that Grambling is a great college but we also think that it should be kept that way and not be infiltrated by trouble makers. It seems very peculiar that we hear very little from the Negro himself about this business of segregation, but it seems to be some smart white man who is trying to take care of the business of the Negro.

Another thing that is foremost in many people's minds is this fact: after we have ditched this business of segregation and are well on the way to being mongrelized, as you call it, how are we going to dispose of the many undesirables which crop up from this uncontrolled hybridization of our breeds? It is an established fact that in the breeding of plants and animals we can expect only a very small percentage of the offspring to approach in quality that of either parent when the two parents are of different breeds. The undesirable plants of such crosses are just not propagated any more and are allowed to pass out of the picture entirely. In the case of animals the undesirables are usually sent to slaughter. Now this is the question. Since man is a member of the animal kingdom we cannot control his propagation or reproduction, so what are we going to do with this undesirable offspring which will arise from such hybridization? Are we going to degrade our civilization by allowing these inferior products to exist and sap our cvilization to death, or is it a question of reverting to a form of subversive government which has ways and means of dealing with such problems? If a few more of our so-called red blooded Americans will only start preaching along the same lines as Mr. Humble is preaching, we might have such a form of government sooner than most of us expect. So you can see that it is not a matter of us thinking we are better than the Negro or anything of that sort, but it is a fact that we must keep our civilization more or less in, a homogenious state if we expect to progress.

Now, as for this business of our churches and supreme court being infiltrated with Reds, may we say that it certainly is not at all impossible for this to happen and we as Americans must be on the alert against such in place of trying to aid the reds by stirring up confusion through preaching anti - segregation etc. Don't let anyone tell you that the Communists have not had a hand in this question of segregation from the beginning. Personally, we think that the main force behind this move can be traced to two sources. Namely: Communism and our cheap politicians and not from the Negro at all.

A GROUP OF TRUE SOUTHERNERS AND LOYAL AMERICANS.

Let's Share The Blame

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Thanks, to the writer of Views Of An Election Deputy, for expressing his thoughts concerning the attitude and behavior of some voters at the polling places in Ouachita on election day.

You had been informed that many changes in location of precincts and procedure of voting would be necessary in the election, but you were totally unprepared for the confusion and disappointment that many of you experienced. This was especially true in Ward Three.

Speaking in behalf of my office and assistants, I am greatly perturbed about the inconvenience and difficulty you experienced in locating your voting precinct. We did make mistakes which we are making every effort to correct.

The boundary lines were difficult to understand and the voting machine map was very new to us, especially after we had memorized every street and every boundary line of the map which was used in the property election. Also, the new boundary lines combined areas not heretofore affected by consolidation and deleted others. Other streets were division lines and the task of assembling the voters according to the even and odd house numbers on their street was painstakingly slow, and we did make errors. We were informed that in some instances, members of the same family and household voted at different precincts. Sometimes that is the voter's fault because they failed to advise us of a change of address. Also, it is most difficult to determine whether Alice M. Smith is the wife of Waller Smith as the forms are placed in the Precinct books in alphabetical order.

Your address, which is shown on your registration form, was taken from your last registration card which you signed in this office during 1949 to 1952. If you have moved or changed your address since that time and have not notified the office, then you probably tried to find your registration in the precinct where you now reside, so therefore you were disappointed.

Many voters searched their homes, billfolds and purses, for the last registration receipt they received and those fortunate enough to find them set out for the voting precinct bearing the number printed in red on the receipt. Many realized their mistake after they had tried to vote at several precincts. The registration receipt in question is of no value whatsoever as it expired January 1, 1953 and most precinct numbers have been changed at least twice since that time.

I am asking the cooperation of all voters who experienced any difficulty in locating their precinct, to contact me by letter or telephone or call by the office in person and furnish the needed information to correct your registration certificate so you may be placed in the proper precinct.

We have already made many changes and corrections and are most anxious to get all voters in Ouachita properly placed in their precincts.

We Must Choose Between Segregation Or Miscegenation

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Mr. Dub Humble, who recently criticized my stand on segregation, wonders how I got my qualifications. His meaning here isn't quite clear. I am not giving a rude or provocative reply but I was 48 year old when Mr. Humble was born, which has enabled me to do a lot of studying.

Evidently Mr. Humble is an intelligent young man but he has stepped into a controversy that's been raging for a hundred years and it has taxed the intellects of some of our oldest, most reliable leaders. I am quoting a few words of Abraham Lincoln on this subject. He was the Negroes' best friend, their emancipator. The following was taken from his speech at Charleston, Ill., 1858:

"I will say, then, that I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of bringing about in any way the political and social equality of the white and black races; that I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people; and I will say, in addition to this, there is a physical difference between the white and black races, which I believe will forever forbid the two races being together on terms of social and political equality."

Is Mr. Humble in favor of miscegenation, a mixbreed of the white and black races? Would he be willing for his offsprings to be Negroes? I doubt it. Nevertheless we must have segregation or we'll get miscegenation, a listless race of people with no initiative, easy prey to conquerors. At first the metamorphosis would be imperceptible but the ultimate outcome would be a race of people God didn't make or don't want or he would have made them. No one knows this any more than those coyotes in the Kremlin.

Mr. Humble's statement that this nation is almost 100 per cent mongrels is misleading. The Eurafrican (white) race is made up of 18 race-stocks. The amalgamation of these races, no doubt, are listed as mongrels. But not all of these crossbreed with other races. Some of them remain true to the teaching of their Bible: Each to his own kind.

Some of Mr. Humble's statements are inaccurate. It isn't true that I am a fear artist; it's a matter of precaution with me. I have seen two World Wars slip up on our country while it was sound asleep. We should never sleep again until Communism goes the way of Nazism. It isn't true that all the churches approved the Supreme Court's decision on desegregation; neither was the Press unanimous on this. It is untrue that I don't respect the US Supreme Court. This is an equity of justice we cannot do without and I have a deep respect for it.

If Mr. Humble reads the papers, listens to the radio how can he deny the fact that Russia is trying to start a revolution in this country. This began back in the 1930s and this ubiqutous curse is still upon us. During the last five years the FBI has sacked up 117 Soviet spies who are trying to overthrow our government. Many of these were preying upon our Negroes.

Mr. Humble turned his criticism on our state legislators, which is very strange for a southerner. He makes the erroneous statement that a speech of one of our congressmen was canceled at a youth center at LSU. This was one of our state senators and he went there to make a talk on segregation but when he realized that he was to speak to a lot of Soviet dupes and Negroes, he walked out. I know for a fact the senator was congratulated for his act of propriety. It is no secret that Soviet stooges and dupes were planted at LSU years ago. The Soviets wanted to make sure the Negroes were enrolled there, the races mingled, which Russia was positive would start race riots. "Divide and conquer" is their blood-thirsty motto.

Mr. Humble now expresses himself like a left Winger. He criticises our state representatives of trying to evade the Supreme Court's decision on desegregation. Is this young man really and truly from the South? Where has he been? Has he been brainwashed by the Communists? All true southerners should be proud of these law-makers.

God Almighty's masterpiece in this world is the white woman, the emblem of His angels, and I am sincerely thankful that we have representatives in our state who have the guts, the intestinal fortitude to stand up for her, keep her shining in her glory as God made her, and a the same time tell those biased politicians in Washington to go down yonder where it never snows.

Rayville Pioneer Tells Of Jessie James Visit

By: MRS. GLADYS LANE
World Correspondent

RAYVILLE, Aug. 7 (Special)—"Jesse James spent the night at our house one night. He was a pretty nice fella." This remark was made by Mrs. Jerusua Shanks, one of the oldest citizens of Louisiana.

Mrs. Shanks is not quite sure of her age, but she was born around 1851, making her approximately 103.

Mrs. Shanks, speaking hesitatingly, but clearly, continued her reminiscing: "I was about 27 when I married. My father held my age back so I wouldn't marry so soon. You see, I was the only girl. There were two brothers and three half brothers. I never went to town until I married. When we went anywhere we had to go in a wagon or walk in the mud."

Mrs. Shanks' father settled on Boeuf River northeast of Rayville. She says, "This may seem funny to you, but I remember when Rayville had one or two stores and a one - horse gin." When asked if she remembered the Civil War, Mrs. Shanks replied, "The Civil War was pretty hard on folks. Lots of the boys didn't come back."

The elderly woman had two children. Her boy died when only a few months old. The daughter married J. T. McAllister and to them were born two sons: John Thomas, Jr., and George Ray. Mrs. McAllister died in 1931, and her husband along with Mrs. Shanks reared the boys to manhood. After World War II the young men came back to the old Shanks - McAllister place on the river to farm. John T. recently moved to California, and George Ray moved to Rayville where he is engaged in the sheet metal business. Mrs. Shanks says she gets good care living with her grandson, George Ray, his wife, three children and J. T. McAllister, Sr.

Until a few years ago, Mrs. Shanks was able to be up and about, doing things for herself. At that time her eyesight became so bad she was confined to the bed. However, she can see images, but cannot distinguish their form. She moves herself around on the bed and to a sitting position without assistance, and is of sound mind. Although Mrs. Shanks is slightly hard of hearing, she carries on an interesting conversation.

She listens to records of music, speeches, readings from the Bible —which equipment is furnished by the state. Most of all she enjoys the McAllister children. They range in age from less than a year to eight years.

The McAllisters are moving into a new house soon, and Mrs. Shanks said, "They say it's nice. I wish I could see it."

Mrs. Shanks is a member of the Methodist Church, and says, "The only church is in the Lord. He will look after all of us — young and old."

Negro Is Injured When Two Autos Collide At Station

A Monroe Negro suffered a broken leg yesterday when caught between two cars that collided at a DeSiard street service station.

According to police, David Jones, an employee at Henderson's Service Station, 1242 DeSiard street, was placing a spare tire in the trunk of a car belonging to Carey Barney Long, Negro minister of 607 Benjamin street, when struck by a car driven by Emmanuel Davis, Buck Jones Lane.

Officers said Davis pulled into the station and crashed into the rear of the minister's car, pinning Jones between the bumpers.

Jones was taken to Charity Hospital where he was reported to have suffered a fractured left leg, and lacerations of the right leg.

Davis was charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, no brakes, negligent injury, and careless and reckless driving. Late yesterday he was being held in the city jail in lieu of $1,125 bond.

Five Outposts Fall To Rebels

HANOI, Aug. 7 —UP—Communist troops have captured five more French Union defense posts in southern Iet Nam only four days before the cease-fire becomes effective in that area, the French high command reported Saturday.

Attacking just four days before the truce deadline, Viet Minh soldiers captured two towers and a fortified village near Saigon Saturday. Friday, they seized two towers in the Tra Vinh area, 50 miles south of Saigon between two branches of the Meking River.

The cease-fire went into effect in Cambodia this morning, and no subsequent violations of the truce were reported.

French authorities gave no casualty figures on the south Viet Nam fighting. They said Franco-Viet Nam troops "reacted swiftly" to the Communist attacks but that no French planes were ordered into action.

Military sources said the Communist attacks were prompted by a Red desire to end the war on the upswing in south Viet Nam, apparently in the belief that every little victory now will have its effect in nationwide elections fixed in the Geneva agreement for 1955.

Refugees continued to leave Hanoi in north Viet Nam for Saigon at the rate of 1,500 a day. Hanoi was calm.

An American embassy spokesman at Saigon said Friday night that France and south Viet Nam have asked the U.S. for help in evacuating some 100,000 Vietnamese from north Viet Nam in the next 30 days.

He said the requests are being considered and that it is impossible to say at the moment how many ships can be made available on short notice.

Business Trends For Week Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Business trends were thoroughly mixed this week. Whether the over-all picture was good or bad seemed to depend pretty much on the individual observer.

Optimists could point to a continued high level of employment in July, continued brisk spending in the nation's retail stores and a sustained whirlwind boom in new construction.

Pessimists could talk about production cutbacks in the auto industry, the Chrysler dividend (it was sliced in half), sluggish demand for steel, and a couple of sharp breaks in the stock market.

The July employment figures, announced at week's end, lent themselves to varied interpretation.

Government officials said it was significant that the total number of people at work held steady last month at slightly more than 62 million. They said it was encouraging that unemployment failed to show the usual seasonal rise.

At the same time they noted that the proportion of all civilian workers out of jobs (5.1 per cent) was about double that of a year ago and the highest for the month in the postwar period except for 1949.

Vacation shutdowns and occasional strikes cut factory and mill employment. The average factory work week in July was 39.4 hours, the average factory worker's paycheck $70.92 — down 76 cents from the month before.

There was some uncertainty about immediate job prospects in the automobile industry. Indications were that layoffs during model change-over time would hit the highest level since Pearl Harbor.

Ward's Automotive Reports said the industry's third-quarter production "will be slashed the sharpest since the prewar 1938-41 period" and will be down 25 per cent from the 1½ million cars produced in April, May and June.

But, said Ward's, "while many of the several million automotive workers stand to be idled earlier and for longer periods this year, the advance in model change-over promises to fatten Yuletide pocketbooks for perhaps the industry's first 'white Christmas' in a decade."

The week's output of 120,392 cars and trucks — lowest five-day volume this year — was accompanied by a continued lull in steel production.

At 64.8 per cent of capacity, the steel industry's scheduled operating rate was only a shade better than the 64.2 per cent achieved the week before.

United States Steel Corp.'s Pittsburgh steamship division said it is laying up 15 of its 59 ore boats shortly after Sept. 1 because of "the condition of raw material inventories." Last year the full fleet operated through Oct. 20.

Bright spots in the steel picture included an increase of about $1 a ton on small purchases of heavy melting grades of scrap.

High inventories of gasoline and other petroleum products remained a headache for the oil industry—and a new surplus problem loomed with settlement of the three-year-old petroleum dispute between Britain and Iran.

Vice President Howard N. Page of Standard Oil Co. (N.J.) and Iranian Finance Minister Dr. Ali Amini, who signed the agreement, said "large volumes of Iranian oil" would be flowing into world markets again "in about two months."

Revenues from oil sales are expected to revive Iran's tottering economy, with resultant benefits to U.S. taxpayers who have been underwriting military and economic aid to that country. Before Iran's industry was shut down in 1951, it was producing about 650,000 barrels daily.

Retail volume for the week showed a slight increase. Merchants reported an upturn in installment buying; sales of upholstered furniture, rugs and bedding showed a definite rise. Food buying continued high; restaurant business was off 3 to 5 per cent from a year ago. Restaurateurs complained that television and frozen foods had revived interest in home cooking.

There was other evidence consumers were able and willing to spend: Sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. in July topped year-ago business for the first time in 10 months.

The building boom surged to a new high last month. Money spent on new construction totaled 3½ billion dollars, making July the biggest month on record.

Scientists estimate that there are more than 100,000 species of fungi.

Sharp Losses In Soybeans Feature Grain Trading

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP) — People who like roller coaster rides could have found quite a thrill in soybeans this week—they plunged 24 to 28½ cents to feature grain dealings on the Board of Trade.

While soybeans were going down even more spectacularly than they had gone up in the previous week, wheat managed to score gains of a few cents. Feed grains and rye, however, sold off, although not with the dramatic emphasis of soybeans.

The break in soybeans followed upon gains of 19½ to 25½ cents in the previous week. Inasmuch as the margin on new crop soybean futures is only 30 cents a bushel, these gyrations have made it possible for a person to nearly double his money one week and lose all of it the next.

Wheat ended the week 2¾-3¾ higher, corn 2¾-6¼ lower, oats 1⅞-1¾ lower, rye ½-1½ lower and lard 7 cents lower to 37 cents a hundred pounds higher.

California Oil Reserves Dwindle, As Demand For Gasoline Climbs Higher

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7 (AP) — There's a new look in the California petroleum picture. It includes pipelines from Rocky Mountain oil fields to the Pacific Northwest, explorations off the California coast far below the ocean floor, and searches for new oil sources in South America.

These measures, adopted by California oil companies only in the last few years, were fashioned from necessity and are likely to stay in vogue for many years.

The reason: the West's giant growth in population and industry has outstripped California's ability to supply the region's entire crude oil needs.

California fields traditionally have served Alaska, British Columbia, California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona, but the picture changed drastically in postwar years.

While daily oil production in California rose from 650,000 barrels in 1938 to 1,001,000 in 1948 and 1,066,000 in May, 1954, petroleum production consumption, or demand, in the five western states jumped from 467,000-barrels a day in 1938 to 760,000 in 1948 and 916,000 last May.

Not only has the demand increased and production increased, but reserves are declining at a disconcerting rate.

The publication, World Oil, reported that California had 3,938,000,000 barrels in reserves last Jan. 1, compared with 3,945,000,000 four years ago.

California automobile registrations totaled 4,412,802 last year, making the state tops in the nation. Gasoline consumption also exceeds all other states. Los Angeles County alone burns up more gasoline than any of 38 states in the union.

With dwindling reserves and spiraling demand, California's oil firms have searched for new oil sources at home and from Canada to Peru.

Standard of California now brings crude from Rangely, Colo., 184 miles to Salt Lake City where it is refined, then pumps 32,000 barrels a day to Spokane via Boise, Ida., and Pasco, Wash.

A new 540-mile Yellowstone line will deliver to Spokane 12,000 barrels a day, mined in Montana and the Williston Basin and refined at Billings.

And a 40,000-barrel daily crude supply which used to go from California to Canada has been halted with the construction of the new trans-mountain line from Alberta to Vancouver.

General Petroleum will start processing Canadian or Venezuelan oil at its new 35,000-barrel refinery at Ferndale, Wash., in December. Shell Oil will begin using its 50,000-barrel capacity refinery at Sumas, Wash., next year, also to process Canadian oil.

Union Oil of California is hunting new oil sources in the gulf coast, has holdings in Wyoming, is testing in the Williston Basin and Alberta, and drilled the first time in Peru's Sechura Desert last winter.

Richfield and Cities Service have interests in more than two million acres in the upper Amazon Basin and Sechura Desert. Richfield also has interests in Canada amounting to 660,000 acres, another 300,000 in Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and Montana, and is surveying the Middle East oil region.

Standard of California has brought into California crude oil from Sumatra and Arabia. Shell, California Standard, Signal Oil and Gas, Gulf Oil and others have bought acreage in Nevada and are in varying stages of development.

And while enabling legislation has not been enacted providing for drilling in California's tidelands, there is renewed activity in surveying offshore fields.

California firm have spent millions of dollars in secondary processing equipment to obtain greater use of California crude. General Petroleum, for example, claims the world's biggest coker, built eight years ago. It also has four catalytic crackers, a catalytic reformer and other equipment—all at its Torrance, Calif., refinery.

Cotton Futures Close Higher In Active Trading

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Cotton futures prices rallied after early softness this week and finished in the plus column.

Active futures contracts traded on the New York Cotton Exchange scored net advances which ranged from 5 cents to $1.20 a bale. The three most distant deliveries made new lift-on contract highs.

Several factors combined to give the market a lift.

One was a growing belief among traders that the 1955 cotton crop will be supported by the government at the present rate of 90 per cent of parity—even if Congress approves a program of flexible price price supports.

Bullish sentiment was also encouraged by continued hot, dry weather in wide areas of the cotton belt where rain is badly needed.

Selling earlier in the week was spurred by light hedging and profit taking. Neither buying nor selling was aggressive, however. Most traders chose to lit on the sidelines pending announcement of the first official forecast of the 1954 cotton crop.

Private estimates pointed to a probable government forecast of about 12,250,000 bales. This would compare with the 16,465,000 bales harvested last year.

Biggest factor in the expected decline, traders said, was a cut of 5,300,000 acres in cotton plantings.

Also, they pointed out, the average yield per acre is expected to be smaller than the record 324.2 pounds per acre achieved last year. Present indications point to an average yield of 302.8 pounds. This would still be the third highest yield on record.

With the new loan rate at 10 spot markets estimated at 33.54 cents a pound, the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau stressed that the average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton at the 10 markets at the close of the week was 91 cents (0.91 of a cent) above the estimated loan figure.

By contrast, the service bureau recalled, the average price in December 1953 was 60 below the loan rate at the 10 markets.

Iranian Oil To Affect Domestic Market Little

WASHINGTON (AP) — Return of Iranian oil to the world market will have little, if any, immediate impact on the domestic petroleum industry, in the opinion of industry and government representatves.

It is their view that settlement of the bitter dispute over Iran's rich oil fields, announced Thursday, doesn't mean that any Iranian oil will start coming into the United States.

For three years the fields have been virtually shut down as a result of Iran's nationalization of Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. properties. Under terms of the settlement, which still must be ratified by the Iranian Parliament, eight international companies have agreed to produce, refine and market Iranian oil. Five of the companies are American—Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, The Texas Co., Gulf Oil Co., and Socony-Vacuum.

"I don't believe they will bring any Iranian oil here," said Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America. "They already know the domestic oil situation. The effect would be so obviously destructive.

"I can't believe they would think of bringing it in here where the front door already is blocked with debris of what is happening to us already—the million barrels of (oil) imports daily we now are getting."

Hugh A. Stewart, head of the Interior Department's oil and gas division, expressed a similar view, saying he believed increasing demands in the Eastern Hemisphere would absorb the Iranian production.

Exams Indicate N. E. Students' Standards High

Top ranking students at Northeast State would be top ranking students at any college, according to scores made on a nationally standardized examination given to the May graduating class at the local institution.

The Graduate Record Examinations, prepared and distributed by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, were administered under standard examining conditions to the seniors.

Purpose of the tests were to provide means of appraising the work of the college as part of a self-evaluation study undertaken by the faculty.

These examinations have been used for several years by colleges and universities throughout the nation for the purpose of estimating the achievement of their candidates for graduation, regardless of curriculum.

The administration and faculty at Northeast have evidenced encouragement by the effectiveness of the college's program of work as illustrated by the special test results which are comparable with college senior scores throughout the country.

'Fringe' Charges

booklet. Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) has told the Senate McCarthy ought to be censured for taking the fee "without rendering services of a comparable value." He stressed that the housing firm was dependent on the government for capital. McCarthy denied there was anything wrong with the transaction. He said Luston made a profit on the booklet.

Ellender said that if the sale of the pamphlet "was legally wrong, then the Senate is not the proper body to initiate prosecution." He said if there was a moral wrong "legal punishment cannot be initiated by either the Senate or the executive branch," but is a matter for the people of Wisconsin. And he expressed belief that Wisconsin voters have already decided the issue.

He said the Luston fee was a "burning issue" in McCarthy's successful campaign for reelection in 1952 "and as far as I am concerned, the people of Wisconsin were satisfied that Sen. McCarthy was guilty of no moral wrong grave enough to warrant his defeat."

The committee of three Republicans and three Democrats, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), will meet Monday to chart the course of hearings expected to begin the following week.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) announced that the Senate Republican Policy Committee also will meet Monday to discuss the possibility of recessing the Senate after it completes its legislative work, probably next Saturday, until the Watkins committee is ready to report.

Some senators were suggesting that the Senate recess subject to the call of Vice President Nixon and the majority and minority leaders to give the committee time to complete its inquiry and report.

Ferguson predicted that the Senate will get a chance to vote on the proposed censure of McCarthy before the November elections. But Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said he fears the political atmosphere will become such that most senators will want to postpone any showdown until late in the year, if not next January.

Ferguson told newsmen he thinks the Watkins group should make specific recommendations to the Senate on what to do about the charges against McCarthy, not just findings of fact.

Sen. George (D-Ga), whose advice is being sought by some Watkins committee members, took an opposite stand. George said he believes the committee should determine the truth or falsity of the charges and leave it up to the Senate to decide whether they are censurable.

Ferguson said he thinks only the charges already referred to the Watkins group by the Senate can be considered by it, unless the Senate itself votes to send other accusations along to it.

This issue came up in connection with a report or reports the Senate Investigations subcommittee, headed by Sen. Mundt (R-SD), proposed to make this week on the investigation of McCarthy's controversy with Army officials.

The group studied charges that McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn, former chief counsel for the committee, used improper pressure in efforts to get favored army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former investigative consultant.

McCarthy and Cohn in turn charged Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army counselor John G. Adams with attempts to hold Schine as a "hostage" to sidetrack an investigation of alleged Communists in the Army.

These charges were largely ignored by Sens. Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore), who made the formal complaints and asked censure of McCarthy's conduct.

Ferguson said any Mundt committee report that was adverse to McCarthy would have to be acted upon by the Senate before it could be sent along to the Watkins committee.

POLICE CAR SMASHED — Officer Ocie D. Howard, driver of the squad car that crashed Friday night on Louisville Avenue while en route to another wreck, looks over the damage as a wrecker pulls his vehicle out of the street. boy remained asleep in the car until it was stopped and the auto thief had fled. Just when the thief discovered he had become a kidnapper could not be determined, nor how long the child had been left in the abandoned auto.

Bruce, when he awoke, apparently was under the impression he had continued the trip to the store, that his aunt Margaret had driven the car and she and his mother would soon be back.

It must have been a long wait. He was thirsty and hungry, but chipper as can be, when Diehl found him.

Diehl, 39-year-old service station attendant, was returning from a hunting trip last evening when he first noticed the parked car along a dirt rural road. He remembered a sign on the bumper "Welcome to the Nazarene Church Sunday School."

Newspaper accounts of the abduction described the missing car and noted that it had such a sign, posted by Mrs. Parker. Diehl went back to investigate, found the car still there and the boy inside. When he asked the lad his name the identification was prompt and final.

Discovery of the child halted a massive search that had been underway since shortly after Bruce disappeared Thursday evening. Civilian defense volunteers, Boy Scouts, the Civil Air Patrol and reinforced details of state and local police had been enlisted in the hunt.

supports, so those who cross party lines will decide the issue.

Repeated polls of the Senate by opposing camps and reporters indicated that votes of these senators, who either are undecided or refuse to state positions, will decide the issue: Cordon (R-Ore), Dworshak (R-Idaho), Burke (D-Ohio), McCarran (D-Nev), and Green and Pastore (D-RI).

One other development is possible. Any senator could offer as a substitute for the Aiken 80-90 proposal an amendment calling for supports at 82½ to 90 per cent of parity.

That was the compromise voted by the House when it gave limited backing to the administration's flexible support proposals and reversed its own Agriculture Committee.

Although the original Eisenhower-Benson proposal called for a range from 75 to 90 per cent, the President said he was pleased with what the House gave him.

There will also be a Senate fight on the level of price supports for milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Benson cut these from 90 to 75 per cent of parity April 1 after millions of pounds of surplus butter, cheese and dried milk piled up in government warehouses.

The House voted to boost these supports to 80 per cent on Sept. 1, and the Senate committee by another 8-7 split, voted to raise them to 85 per cent.

Aiken and administration backers want to hold dairy supports at existing levels with new authority for special payments to producers or purchase of milk as well as processed products.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), former chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and now its top ranking minority member, charged that Secretary of Agriculture Benson had used "more or less foul means" in presenting the issues on price supports to the public.

This drew a protest from Sen. Crippa (R-Wyo), who said he objected to Ellender's use of the word "foul." Ellender stuck to it, however, saying that Crippa "can have his way about it, and I'll have mine."

Ellender contended that Benson had used "deception" in presenting a chart to the agriculture committee. The senator said this purported to show that the price support program had cost the taxpayers more than 16 billion dollars.

nurses pulled into a service station. It was closed, as it was near midnight.

Their car had a dry radiator. One of the young lassies tried the water hose, it was locked. The girl then spied a water faucet, and here the work began. A small dixie cup as a weapon, she began her task of carrying water some thirty feet to her auto.

After some 200 or more trips, a young couple came to their aid. The young man quietly picked up a tremendous bucket, walked over, and filled the radiator with one big drink.

Thank God, we have such women doing life-saving work in our hospitals, and not in our service stations.

the first of the final series of attacks.

It was learned that no doctor treated Emilie during this time and a physician was not called until some time after the shy, retiring brunette was dead. The coroner was notified nearly five hours after her death and ordered an inquest because she was untended when she drew her final breath.

Grieving Olivia Dionne and his wife, who has borne him 14 children, joined the remaining quints and their other children in prayer beside Emilie's body after she was brought home.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine, Quebec provincial government medico-legal expert, and Dr. Paul Martin determined epilepsy was the cause of death. They also found Emilie had suffered from a serious glandular disorder for several years.

"This girl suffered from epileptic seizures and she died from acute congestion of the lungs during one of them," Fontaine's official report said.

Telegrams and messages of condolences flooded the heartbroken household from around the world. A close family friend said the surviving quints, Marie, Cecile, Yvonne and Annette, would "never be the same again." But Papa Dionne and the family priest said their "faith is very strong."

2,500 Witnesses Summoned Before New Grand Jury

PHENIX CITY, Ala., Aug. 7 — UP— National guardsmen raided the homes of two one-time Phenix City gambling kings with little result Saturday as state investigators began serving about 2,500 subpenaes on witnesses who will appear before a blue-ribbon grand jury which convenes Monday for the biggest cleanup drive in Alabama history.

National Guard raiding parties led by Col. James N. Brown, police chief under martial rule in Phenix City, and Lt. Col. Jack Warren, military sheriff, appeared simultaneously at the Russell county home of Hoyt Sheppard and the Phenix City home of James R. Matthews.

Sheppard and Matthews were reputed partners in a once-lush multi-million dollar Phenix City gambling empire. They announced a couple of years ago that they were no longer connected with gambling.

'Miss Chrissie' To Retire After 42 Active Years

Mrs. Chrissie Williams, known by a small army of students for years as "Miss Chrissie," will not be on duty when school bells ring for the September term at Ouachita parish schools. The loss will be hard to replace for she has been a teacher who has been recognized for her skill through the 42 years since she proudly walked down the aisle at State Normal in Natchitoches, in 1912 to become a graduate.

She began to teach in Vernon parish where she put in eleven years. She came to Monroe in 1917, and at the outset taught in the first grade. In two years time, Supt. T. O. Brown recognized her as a jewel of a teacher and elevated her to the post of supervisor of elementary education. She has held this position and broadened and deepened its work through the exercise of her own superior understanding of the needs and possibilities of boys and girls in their early education.

She introduced improved methods and ever sought to educate winners in all lines in which they were enrolled. She made a specially fine showing in the many rallies that used to be featured more a few years ago than is now the case.

Rallies held in Ruston excited the interest and competitive skill of the youngsters and many were the awards they achieved due in large degree to the guidance of "Miss Chrissie." As an example of achievement, in a single year eleven loving cups were awarded and also thirty-six medals.

It was observed that those students who won outstanding honors in their lower grades continued to do likewise when in high school, for the stimulus of success followed them. It could not be otherwise.

In the last few years, Supt. T. O. Brown placed more and more the physical task of carrying out his duties, as his own strength was waning. While she retained the title of supervisor of elementary education, "Miss Chrissie" also performed the duties to a large degree, as would an acting superintendent of Monroe city schools. She was able to perform this double duty with the same high degree of success that had attended all her school experiences. She was ever tireless in carrying on school life. The pupils young and older, loved "Miss Chrissie" with an undying devotion.

It will be hard after the fall term opens to find "Miss Chrissie" gone from the school room. But she has really earned her retirement and she deserves a few years of rest and recreation. The blessings and good wishes of thousands of pupils will follow her as she goes into retirement.

In September 1919, she was married to S. Willis Williams, who in a quiet manner has ever been a great aid and supporter of his wife in the complex and demanding duties that were her lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams have an attractive home at 1419 South Grand street which will be ever open to their many friends.

Sen. Ainsworth Matched Against Attorney Gravel For Demo Committee Post

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 7—(AP)—The meeting of the State Democratic Central committee is still a week away, but speculation on who it will select as Louisiana's national Democratic committeeman is the No. 1 topic of conversation here.

The 100-man committee's official purpose will be to declare Sen. Allen J. Ellender the party nominee for a fourth term in the U. S. Senate. The vote in the July 27 primary, promulgated this week by the secretary of state, gave Ellender a 105,289-vote margin over Frank B. Ellis.

The day after election Ellis quit as national committeeman, and the race was on for his job. So far, only two prominent candidates have come to light, and they are on diametrically opposite sides.

Sen. Robert A. Ainsworth Jr., of New Orleans is Gov. Robert F. Kennon's choice and Alexandria attorney Camille Gravel is in the camp of former Gov. Earl K. Long.

Kennon is confident Ainsworth, his Senate floor leader, will be victorious, for two reasons—his qualifications for the post, and his "harmony" with the administration.

Ainsworth at first was reluctant to make an active bid for the job, and said he would neither seek nor campaign for it but would serve if elected. Later statements indicate he now has a stronger urge to become national committeeman.

Kennon calls the senator "extremely well-qualified" in view of his "background in the Senate, his parliamentary and forensic ability, his wide knowledge and experience." Also, the governor adds, Ainsworth should be selected because, in the past, the national committeeman "traditionally has been a man in harmony with the current administration."

Gravel has been reported Long's candidate, but Long this week denied it. Gravel supported Long in the second primary of the 1948 governor's race, despite the fact he supported Kennon in the first primary of that same race. After the Long denial, Ainsworth insisted Gravel has Long's backing.

Whether Long wants it that way or not, the fight is shaping up as one between the Kennon faction and the Long faction, and most observers here say the election Aug. 16 will be a one-sided Kennon-sided affair.

Slots Worth $100,000 Seized In Anti-Gaming Raids Near Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP)—The war on slot machines in the Atlanta area today resulted in seizure of another estimated $100,000 worth of the gambling devices in suburban East Point.

East Point police led by Capt. E. M. Blount found 12 slot machines in a Moose Lodge and 30 machines in an Elks Club.

One machine was found in an American Legion club, but Capt. Blount said he was told it had been out of order for more than two years.

The officer estimated the value of the seized machines at more than $100,000.

DeKalb and Fulton county officers confiscated 15 machines, estimated to be worth $30,000, Friday at the DeKalb County residence of James E. Adams.

Adams was listed as operator of an Atlanta coin machine business where slot machines and parts valued at about $20,000 were seized by Fulton County officials Thursday.

Adlai Blames GOP For Indo-China's Loss To Soviets

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 7 —UP— Adlai E. Stevenson Saturday charged the administration with subjecting the United States to a "devastating loss" in Indo-China, and predicted the Democrats may win control of both Houses in the November elections.

Stevenson told a Democratic party rally the United States "suffered a devastating loss of 12-million to 13-million people" in Indo-China.

"It was the largest concentration of Christian-Catholic population in East Asia," the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said.

Stevenson, speaking to Nebraska Democrats only days before their Aug. 10 primary election, predicted the Democrats would win a "substantial majority" of 20 to 40 seats in the House.

He said he "wouldn't care to be specific" in the Senate, but he said he thought the Democrats would win control of the upper chamber.

Stevenson also touched on the special Senate committee named to study the censure motion against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

The committee, he said, has "enormous responsibility."

"What it determines will affect the standards for years to come of the senior legislative body of the oldest Democracy on earth at a time when we are passing through one of our greatest constitutional crises," he said.

Stevenson said he repeatedly had warned the administration to "man its barricades" to protect the separation of powers in government.

New Effort Due To Avert Strike At Atomic Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—New efforts to eliminate the threat of another strike at two strategic atom and H-bomb material plants will be made at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Monday.

Another day of angling for a different approach to settle a four-month-old labor controversy brought an announcement last night from the Federal Mediation Service that negotiations would resume then.

E. F. Hitchcock, a federal mediator, arranged sessions between the CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers Union and the Carbide & Chemicals Corp. Carbide operates the plants at Paducah, Ky., and Oak Ridge that produce the entire U.S. supply of uranium materials used in making the super bombs.

Some 4,500 union members quit both plants for four days early last month and have threatened a new strike without fixing a date.

The CIO union already has rejected a 6-cent hourly raise. Pay now ranges from $1.58 to $2.40 an hour. The union has asked at least a 14-cent hike.

An AFL union which represents 4,500 workers at two other Oak Ridge atom plants also has spurned the 6-cent offer, but has not threatened to strike.

Veteran Flier Perfects New, Realistic Method Of Turning Out Maps

By HAL SEYMOUR

DENVER, Aug. 7 (AP) — Maps should look just like the earth would appear to a man in space, Elrey B. Jeppesen decided years ago.

As a result, a group of photographers, draftsmen, artists and businessmen are turning out realistic picture maps that astound the cartographic world.

It took them nine years to perfect the technique of making mountains appear to stick up from the paper, and Death Valley to resemble a hole in the tabletop.

Jeppesen, 45-year-old founder and president of the company, was an airplane pilot when he was 16. While collecting more than 17,000 flight hours, he sought a map that would show the ground as he saw it from the air—picture it, instead of showing a mass of symbols and lines.

For awhile, he devoted his spare time to collecting flight data in a notebook. Soon his personal log had a complete collection of flight information for the area from the Mississippi River to the West Coast.

His observations, included drawings of airports, terrain characteristics, obstacles around airstrips and terminals, and mileage figures. They were designed to help a pilot in trouble.

Gradually pilots from all parts of the country heard about the booklet and traded information from their own sections for copies of his data. When the demand got too big for him to handle, Jeppesen set up a company to print the books.

Today they are sent, with weekly correction as conditions change, to 90 per cent of America's scheduled air lines and are internationally recognized as a leading publication in this field.

At the end of World War II Jeppesen was able to turn his attention back to the need for a "relief" map. He joined with 38-year-old Hal Shelton, a big, easygoing artist who had been experimenting with the same notion.

Now their company, turning out manuals and maps, includes 115 workers. Their office is tucked between two hangers at Stapleton Airfield on the edge of Denver.

The map process they use is secret, but two years ago the 17th International Geographic Congress in Washington was startled by the product.

Jeppesen & Co. maps begin like any others, with a "basic compilation" or contour line map of the ground. There they depart from the normal procedures of mapmaking.

From many sources they compile information on climate, rainfall, land forms, drainage. Then Shelton, as chief artist, goes to work. Just what he does in his studio at home, with his air brushes and paints, he won't say.

The result, however, is a painting of the land in all its natural color and in complete exactness.

Ordinary color maps use green for low areas and orange for higher elevations. Jeppesen & Co. makes portraits of the earth's surface as it actually looks. Deserts appear in shades of red and buff, heavy agricultural areas are green and mountains are dark green where timbered and white where capped with snow.

Skilled cartographers see to it every stream winds down its proper canyon, that each lake is in place and that roads actually follow the side of a mountain rather than glide across valleys and over cliffs.

The company devised a means of making the desert have a texture of sand and the farm field a texture of growing grasses—all in painting. But this has only been used on a few of the newest maps.

Finally the map is printed, employing the most up-to-date techniques of cartography.

Clarion-Ledger Buys Daily News, Ending Lawsuit

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Editor Frederick Sullens of the Jackson Daily News said today the competing Clarion-Ledger has bought control of the Daily News, halting a legal fight which began last year.

The agreement does not change his position as editor, Sullens said.

"I am to remain in complete control" of the Daily News editorial policy "until the day I die," he added.

He told his news staff the change would not affect them.

Both newspapers will publish a statement in their Sunday editions, announcing that a satisfactory settlement has been arranged and litigations will be halted.

"Litigation could have been carried on for several years and could have financially wrecked the Daily News," and hurt the Clarion-Ledger, Sullens said.

Details of the financial agreement were not announced. The settlement cancelled a legal fight which had just been handed to the state Supreme Court.

Highlights of the case came July 17 when Chancellor Arnold Pyle dissolved Mississippi Publishers Corp., which published both newspapers, and enjoined Clarion-Ledger stockholders from buying control of the corporation.

Pyle's decision was a victory for the afternoon Daily News in its attempt to prevent the morning Clarion-Ledger from gaining control of the corporation.

Stock in the parent corporation was divided equally between Daily News and Clarion-Ledger stockholders.

The settlement announced today supersedes Chancellor Pyle's decision of July 17.

Negro Confesses Part In Burglary

Chief of Detectives Hugh Tolbert reported yesterday that Walter Harrison Price, Negro, 19, of 908 Adams street, who was arrested Thursday night on a burglary charge, has admitted the July 31 burglary of the Community Cleaners on Washington street. Tolbert said clothing found at the Negro's home was identified by laundry marks as that stolen from the cleaning establishment.

Price was arrested Thursday night by detective sergeant Ralph Graves and detective Floyd Van, after the Negro was identified by a 14-year-old boy as the man who passed a stolen five dollar bill at a local ice cream stand, Tolbert said. The bill was alleged by detectives to have been one stolen from R C. Brown's clothing store earlier in the week.

Under questioning, detectives said, Price admitted the burglary of the clothing store, the Piggly Wiggly store and M. J. Fontana's grocery store, 901 Pine street. Price later admitted the burglary at the cleaning establishment, detectives said.

Long Hunt Turns Up Suspect

Careful investigation and patience on the part of Ouachita Parish Chief Criminal Investigator E. L. 'Pop' Walker has paid off in the apprehension of a man wanted in Monroe since January 30 of last year, Sheriff Bailey Grant said Saturday.

The man, Ray H. Wiley, was identified as the one who reportedly passed a forged check for $93.75 in a local jewelry store. He is wanted in Monroe for forgery, Sheriff Grant said.

According to the Ouachita Parish sheriff department, Wiley is reported to have purchased a $35 watch and band and given the store a $93.75 check. The remainder of the check was taken as cash by Wiley.

Before the forged check was reported to the sheriff department, Wiley is reported to have left town with no forwarding address. However, an investigation by Walker and other members of the department of the man's room brought to light a picture and pages of a pad on which a letter had been written. By taking the pad and tracing the impressions on the sheets, Walker was able to secure some information, along with a sample of Wiley's handwriting. This information was sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for checking in their files.

The local sheriff department was recently notified that the writing, and the name written on the check, were similar to those of a man now in a Texas prison. The FBI also said the handwriting experts had said there were similarities.

Wiley, who will be released from the Huntsville, Tex., prison soon, has refused to sign a waiver of extradition. Legal proceedings have been started and Wiley will be returned to Ouachita Parish, possibly next week.

MAJ. DURWOOD CANN, JR.

Durwood Cann, Jr. Military Tactics Professor At N. E.

Maj. Durwood Cann, Jr., a native of Monroe, has been assigned to Northeast State as head of the Military Department. The new professor of science and military tactics succeeds Lt. Col. Melville H. Griffith, who will leave soon for service in the Far East.

Just prior to accepting the post at Northeast Major Cann was on duty in Turkey where he worked for two years with the Joint Military Mission for Aid to Turkey.

He began his military training at Louisiana State University where he transferred from Northeast when the local institution was a junior college. Cann was graduated from the university in 1942 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. He later qualified as a master parachutist, the highest rank given in that specific branch of training.

The major's army experiences include action in World War II when he was a parachute unit commander of the 101st Airborne Division. He participated in the battles of Normandy and Rhineland, the invasion of Holland as a parachutist, battle of the Bulge and fighting in Central Europe.

At the close of the war he was made zone commander of the army of occupation in Austria.

Returning to the United States in 1946, Major Cann was assigned as aide de camp to Maj. Gen. James M. Gavin commander of the 82nd Airborne Division and the youngest officer to hold such official rank in the second world war.

Major Cann attended the advanced infantry officers school course at Ft. Benning, Ga., from 1948 to 1949, and was then made instructor in infantry tactics at the armored school, Ft. Knox, Ky., where he remained through 1952.

After that came two years in Turkey where he worked with the Turkish general staff toward national organization and training of the army. His first assignment was to train officers for the Turkish brigade being sent to fight with the United Nations Army in Korea. Then he served with the joint mission general staff.

Commending the major for his service in Turkey, the assistant chief of staff, U. S. army group in that country wrote: "Through your active efforts and enthusiasm you have made a substantial contribution toward raising the combat efficiency of the Turkish army."

Major Cann wears the Purple Heart with oak leaf cluster, Bronze Star with oak leaf clusters, and decorations awarded by Blegium, France and Holland.

If your custards "weep" or curdle, there's one thing you can be sure of: you have over-cooked them.

Gertrude Gregory Named Supervisor Of Parish Schools

With the retirement of Mrs. Chrissie Williams as supervisor in the Ouachita parish school system, Miss Gertrude Gregory, former principal of Linwell school, has been promoted to the position. Miss Gregory has been a teacher in all grades from one through seven, most of which time was spent in upper elementary work. She has, for the past few years, been principal of the elementary school within the parish system.

After graduation from high school, the new supervisor studied at Louisiana State Normal for a summer term and took a teacher's examination, earning a first grade certificate. She taught teaching on the certificate and continued going to Normal, until she had finished the two-year course being offered in teacher training. While taking the course she majored in mathematics and natural science and did practical teaching in seventh grade history.

Following completion at Normal, Miss Gregory studied methods in the teaching of reading, arithmetic, and geography at Peabody College. She also studied history for one summer at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Her bachelor of arts degree was earned at Louisiana Tech, where she majored in upper elementary education.

'Pelican Staters' List Own CD Plans

Directors will be appointed for the second consecutive year for the states and their political subdivisions and civil defense program will be set up, Choppin said.

State civil defense officials will address the American Legion-sponsored boys state on Aug. 16 and the girls state Aug. 26.

Visiting staters will be invited to tour state civil defense headquarters on the Louisiana State University campus.

Ouachita High Improvements Near Completion

Work is nearing completion on the Ouachita Parish High School building, and contractors expect to finish the $350,000 renovation job, including present and recent improvements, by the time school opens on September 7.

Included in the complete remodeling are the refinishing of all walls in pastel colors and the covering of all floors in asphalt tile. A new and enlarged lighting system, new fire alarms, a complete inter-communication system, and a new clock and bell system will be added. New roofs have been put on both buildings.

The home economics department has been remodeled to meet all new standards, and laboratories have been reworked and renewed. All special departments have been enlarged or remodeled to meet present day needs. The library and the cafeteria have been improved and renovated.

All old style desks have been replaced by new modern chair-desks, window shades replaced by Venetian blinds, and student lockers provided.

Perhaps students returning to school in the fall will notice the greatest change in the annex, better known as "the Peters Building." This building has been completely remodeled and modernized inside, and painted inside and out, and new doors and windows have been added. The annex will now provide space for modern vocal music, distributive education, agriculture, and shop departments.

The study hall, which previously has been separated from South Grand street by only floor length glass, has been modernized in such a way as to be removed from the noise of the city traffic. This building will now be air-cooled by several large exhaust fans, and a new heating system will be provided.

The walls of the auditorium have been painted. New curtains have been placed on the stage and a new piano purchased.

New facilities are being added in the gymnasium and a practice athletic field is being prepared.

With this physical improvement administrators feel that Ouachita will be better able to carry on its instruction in the varied curricula it now offers.

According to Principal I. C. Strickland it would take a student 20 years to complete the 80 courses offered at Ouachita Parish High School. These courses are from the fields of languages, art, music, home economics, agriculture, industry, trade, business education, distributive education, journalism, and speech, as well as those subjects of the general courses.

With the addition of the eighth grade this year, additional students will have a chance to explore some of the special fields along with their regular subjects, and will be able to join in the varied activity program of the school.

Baton Rouge Sees Insurance Savings On New Fire Rates

BATON ROUGE Aug. 7 —UP— Acting Mayor Frank J. McConnell said today that Baton Rouge has been given a class two fire insurance rating which may mean an estimated $200,000-per-year savings on fire insurance rates.

The boost from class three to class two was announced yesterday by P. A. Wiggins of New Orleans, manager of the Louisiana Rating and Fire Prevention bureau.

Wiggins said the new rate scale is being worked out for the city and it will go into effect as soon as computed by the bureau.

Baton Rouge is the only Louisiana city with a class two rating, and one of 26 in the United States. The higher classification resulted from improved fire fighting equipment and additions to the fire fighters' ranks.

12 Demo Solons Question Brownell On Tidelands Act

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 —UP— Thirteen senators asked Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., Saturday what he has done about defining the offshore boundaries of the Gulf States in connection with the tidelands legislation enacted last year.

The senators — 12 Democrats and Sen. Wayne L. Morse (Ind-Ore.)— reminded him that they had sent a similar letter last year and received no reply.

The tidelands bill handed to the states ownership of the submerged lands out to historic state boundaries. While these boundaries generally were on the three-mile limit, they were 10½ miles from the coast for Texas and the west coast of Florida.

In Saturday's letter, the senators recalled that the State Department had objected to fixing any state boundary beyond the three-mile limit.

"We believe we are entitled to know whether you will be or have been resisting the claims of any Gulf states for boundaries beyond the three-mile area claimed by the United States," the letter said, "and also what you have done or intend to do with respect to the funds due or collected on account of operations in the area which is or should be in controversy."

Besides Morse, the signers were Democratic Sens. Herbert H. Lehman (N.Y.), Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.), Clinton P. Anderson (N.M.), Paul H. Douglas (Ill.), Mike Monroney (Okla.), Lister Hill (Ala.), Henry M. Jackson (Wash.), John O. Pastore, (R.I.), Albert Gore (Tenn.), Estes Kefauver (Tenn.), Thomas C. Hennings (Mo.), and Harley M. Kilgore (W.Va.).

11 Counties In Arkansas Named As Drouth Area

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 —UP— President Eiseshower Saturday designated 11 counties in Arkansas as a drouth disaster area qualified for special federal relief.

At the same time, he said an Agriculture Department survey of the situation in Alabama indicates the drouth there is not sufficiently acute for the disaster area designation.

The 11 Arkansas counties are Benton, Boone, Carroll, Crawford, Franklin, Johnson, Logan, Madison, Newton, Sebastian and Washington.

Agriculture Department officials said more Arkansas counties may be added to the list "within a few days."

Within the designated counties, farmers applying for federal aid must be cleared by local Farmers Home Administration committees.

Saturday's action brought the number of designated drouth disaster counties to 196 in seven states — Colorado, 23; Texas, 23; Wyoming, 13; New Mexico, 24; Oklahoma, 26; Missouri, 26, and Arkansas, 11.

Still awaiting final government decision on pleas for official designation on disaster areas are Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

An official request also is expected from South Carolina.

Superintendents, School Boards Share Large Job

Handling all business operations of the Ouachita parish and Monroe city school systems are the superintendents and school boards. These, in turn, act for both the general public of the areas involved and the persons employed by the systems.

Members of the board are elected by the voting public, while the superintendents are hired by the boards to "oversee" the actual administration of the systems. In the parish system, William W. Ward is superintendent, while Van D. Odom is superintendent for the Monroe city system.

The city school board, five in number, is chosen from the city as a whole, while various wards throughout the parish select a member or members to represent them on the parish school board. The number of ward representatives depends upon the population of the individual areas.

Presently serving on the city school board are T. H. Scott, president, and Floyd Martin, Mrs. Anna Gray Noe, E. F. Jones and Billy Gannaway.

The parish board is composed of the following: Dr. B. E. Spencer, Ward 1, Sterlington; Warren E. Palmer, Ward 2, Route 3, West Monroe; Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, H. O. Hartman and Marcus Swayze, Ward 3, Monroe; Marvin Shipp, Ward 4, Bosco; Ed Hislop, Jr., and C. G. Wall, Jr., Ward 5, West Monroe; E. M. Finley, Ward 6, Calhoun; C. P. Holloway, Ward 7, Eros; Charles B. Griggs, Ward 8, Route 3, West Monroe; Dwight E. Owens, Ward 9, Route 3, West Monroe; and J. H. Trousdale, Jr., W. B. Inabnet and Wayne McDonald, Ward 10, Monroe.

Ward 5 has one seat open due to Dale Cobb's moving from the area.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Cotton States League, which threatened to fold a year ago because Hot Springs wanted to hire some Negro ball players, has been quite docile in letting down the barrier in recent weeks.

Today fans attending the Twin Cities Sports game here with Hot Springs are preparing to see that which many fans had figured would not come to pass, Negroes playing in the deep south circuit. The Sports have already seen the new additions at Hot Springs, Meridian, and Pine Bluff, but today will mark the first appearance at Legion Memorial Stadium of Negroes in a Cotton States League game.

The Bathers released the first two Negroes they hired, but at last accounts they had a colored first baseman and a pitcher. The hurler, Bill Mitchell, last Monday defeated league-leading El Dorado. He is a twelve-fingered chunker with two thumbs on each hand.

The Spas are here for three games. Then Pine Bluff moves in with its new Negro addition Wednesday for three contests. Meridian has already appeared here for the last time, unless the Sports make the playoffs, so their acquisition of color won't show here.

After all that fuss a year ago, the same situation has been taken mighty mildly this year. Just goes to show what can happen when the pocketbooks begin to hurt. The clubs who hired the Negroes claim it has helped boost their attendance.

Attendance here hasn't been anything to brag about, but the Sports, along with El Dorado and Greenville, so far still have all-white teams.

Also, Leonard Morrison is no longer with the Sports. He was released a week ago as he failed to measure up in batting to his 1950 season here when he was runner-up for the batting title. Lennie's trouble was his eyes. He had taken to wearing glasses in hopes to getting back in the groove with his bat, but his hits were far between.

We expect to hear within the next week of another big shift in the major leagues. This time its the Philadelphia Athletics who are looking for a new home or new owners, and it begins to look like the only chance the A's have of staying in the Quaker city in a group headed by Harry Sylk, a drug campany executive, who has announced he'll keep the Athletics at home "if the Mack family sells me every share of stock."

Kansas City has already bid $4,500,000 for the Athletics' franchise. Sylk says a group he is working with can match that figure. Philadelphia fans recently turned a cool shoulder to the "Save the A's" campaign with some figuring the campaign should have been tagged "Save the Macks."

Sylk is due to meet with Roy Mack, A's executive vice president, Tuesday to see what they can work out. The Athletics' board of directors has a meeting set for Wednesday when they expect to come to some agreement on what to do about their plight. The aging Connie Mack, over half a century in baseball, built the A's to one of the most feared big league clubs in the lush years of the '20s and early '30s, but they have since been on a steady decline. It looks like "Goodbye, Mr. Mack."

Foster Bradley Cops Junior Championship

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7 (AP)—Handsome young Foster Bradley of Los Angeles captured the seventh annual United States Golf Association Junior championship today, defeating Alan Gieberger of Santa Barbara, 2 and 1, in an all-California windup of the four-day event.

Gieberger, 16, was a slight favorite but superb putting by Bradley gave him an early lead and he was 4 up at the turn of the 18-hole windup.

Gieberger, 5 down at the end of the 10th, whittled the lead down to one hole, with three to go, but the tall local lad won the 16th and they halved the 17th to end the match.

Gelberger almost scored a hole in one on the short 15th. The ball hit the pin and bounced back two feet.

Twin Cities Maul Judges By 15-6 Count

Brilliant Triple Play Highlights Sports' Defense

PINE BLUFF, Ark., August 7 (Special) — The Twin Cities Sports took the third and final game from the Pine Bluff Judges here tonight, 15-6, with a 17-hit onslaught at bat; and a fast triple play in the third and a twin-killing in the ninth featuring the defense.

Jim Nissel, Frank Marinkovich, Paul Flores and Miles McWilliams all had three safe blows for the Sports; with Flores hitting a homer; and Nissel and Marinkovich doubles. Catcher Sam Chetta, who has been whaling the cover off the ball of late, went hitless, but drew two walks, hit two long flies and scored twice.

The Pine Bluff sticks greeted Miles McWilliams with four hits

BATHERS HERE

The Twin Cities Sports come home today to open a six-day stand at Legion Memorial Stadium. The Hot Springs Bathers are here for the first three and plan to present the first Negroes ever to play in a Cotton State League game in Monroe. They are William Parker, first baseman, and Bill Mitchell, pitcher. Today's game starts at 3 p.m.

and three runs in the first inning. Cliff Mansfield led off with a single, and was moved to second on an infield hit by Charlie Gates. Mansfield scored on an outfield fly and Gates went to second on the throw and took third on a ground-out. He scored on Dan Gatta's infield hit, and the Pine Bluff backstop was doubled home by Bobby Gonzalez.

The Sports tied it up in the top of second on three runs, three hits, and a costly outield error. The Twin Cities loaded the bases on singles by Paul Flores and Chuck Forbes, with a walk to Sam Chetta sandwiched between. Virgil Petty grounded out, and Flores scored on the play, with Chetta and Forbes advancing a base. Both scored when McWilliams' long fly was dropped in leftfield.

The Twin Cities' triple play got McWilliams out of the hole in a hurry in the bottom of the third. Gates, the first Judge batter, beat out an infield hit, and Merle Smith walked. That set the stage. Clean-up batter Gene Oden, on a hit and run, lined sharply to McWilliams, who hung on, then wheeled and fired to shortstop Paul Flores covering second. This doubled Gates off, and as Smith, who was pounding down to second, desperately tried to get back to first, Flores' throw to Bob Norden beat him by a hair, and three were away on one pitch.

The Sports broke the 3-3 tie in their half of the sixth with six runs on six hits. Flores, Forbes and McWilliams got singles, Jim Nissel and Frank Marinkovich smacked back to back doubles, and C. J. Fontana doubled. The barrage chased Pine Bluff starter Mike Farley, who was replaced by Don Henrich.

The Twin Cities added five more in the next frame. Henrich only got one out before being relieved by Moose Arnone, and was charged with five runs and four hits, one of the markers coming in the previous inning. The Sports loaded the bases on a walk and singles by Petty and McWilliams. Nissel walked, forcing Chetta, the lead-off walker, and singles by Marinkovich and Fontana, plus an outfield error, tallied four more.

Pine Bluff scored two in the seventh on three hits and a walk, and the Sports got one back in the eighth when Flores got his third hit of the evening, a solo blast over the rightfield fence. The blow was duplicated by the Judges' Ron Fenster in their half of the frame to give the Bluffers their sixth and final run.

Ruple Issues Grid Call For Neville Hopefuls

The Neville High School Tigers, facing a complete rebuilding job for their football campaign in Class AA this year, are just a week away from starting their fall workouts, according to an announcement issued yesterday by Coach Bill Ruple.

the Bengal football hopefuls will meet Coach Ruple next Friday morning at Neville Stadium to be issued equipment, and next Sunday morning they will be on their way to Camp Windywood, near Pollock, for two weeks of two-a-day workouts. They'll return home Saturday morning, August 28, for one week of work at Neville Stadium before opening the season at Alexandria against the Bolton Bears on September 3.

It has been many years since Neville opened a training camp with such a lack of experienced talent. Only three members of the prospective squad — center Dick Seiler, end C. W. Statham, and back "Spec" Lewis—can show any experience to speak of, and Coach Ruple has been culling the rolls at Neville for anything that can give him some help.

Joining Coach Ruple at Windywood will be assistant coaches Jim Coats, Gus Petterson, and Charlie Brown.

Coach Ruple, while announcing no boys would go to camp who have not filed their birth certificates with the school office, listed the following as his camp squad:

George Boyd, Botsy McClanahan, Billy King, Jerry Aston, Gene Dupuy, Scotty Benett, Terry Reeves, Mickey Yerger, James Kitchens, Ralph McNabb, George Ward, Joe Williams, George Cerneglia, Glen Bassett, Bill Jones, Norman Stevens, Billy Allen, and Frank Webb.

"Any new boys planning to enroll at Neville this fall will be welcome to report for the Friday meeting," Coach Ruple said.

Newellton Bears Opening Football Training Monday

NEWELLTON, La., Aug. 7 (Special)—The Newellton High School football squad will begin regular season football practice on Monday night at 7 o'clock, according to coach Johnny Johnson. At least 35 healthy young specimens are due to report for this first practice session.

Missing from last years squad will be the entire starting right side of the line—right end Buddy Palmer, right tackle, Jackie Crane, right guard Bobby Kelly, center Sidney Emfinger and alternates Charles Netterville and Doyle Byrd. Missing from the backfield will be starting halfback Maxie Brown. However, coach Johnson is blessed with a number of replacements, many having considerable experience last season as alternates in varsity games or as full time work horses in "B" squad tilts.

There is going to be a lot of competition for line positions among such talent as Roy Brown, Jerry Kelly, James Welch, John Wood, Bill Parker, Bill Standiford, Sam Duchesne, Jerry Head, M. L. Anding, Clarence Stone, Delton Keyes, Lavance Herring, John Lang, Blake Ford, and Eskew, not to mention several other promising youngsters who participated in the spring training sessions.

In the backfield will be returning such experienced workhorses as Terry Head, Buddy Emfinger, Ronnie Doyle, Jerry Clark, Bobbie Black, and Raymond Cannon, along with several other fellows who saw lots of "B" squad service last season. It looks like coach Johnson and Company can look forward to a heavier and more experienced team than was fielded last year.

According to Wallace Prather, principal of the Newellton High School, the following schedule has been arranged for the coming season with Sicily Island, Gilbert, Wisner and St. Joseph as district "conference" games, and the others either out of the district or "A" class games:

Sept. 10—Sicily Island, there.
Sept. 17—Oak Grove, there.
Sept. 24—Crowville, here.
Oct. 1—Open.
Oct. 8—Tallulah, here.
Oct. 15—Gilbert, three.
Oct. 22—Wisner, here.
Oct. 29—Columbia, there.
Nov. 5—St. Joseph, here.
Nov. 12—Ferriday, there.
Nov. 19—Lake Providence, here.

Jack, George Curtis Vs. Cronin, Dusek Tag Team

Promoter Gus Kallio has lined up "the" wrestling card of the year at the Walnut St. Arena Tuesday night, when, for the first time since late '53, Jack and George Curtis team up in a tag match. Their opponents in the best-of-three falls feature match will be none other than Pat "Big Boy" Cronin and Danny Dusek.

The referee is scheduled to be Bill Barney, the West Monroe gasoline pumper; and there will be a pair of one-fall preliminaries between opposing team members, the first of which is slated to start at 8:15.

No local wrestling fan will ever forget the previous nip-and tuck meetings between the Curtis Brothers and Cronin, who usually had Jack on his side. The main action, however, was between the elder Curtis and "Big Boy", and their action-packed bouts filled the house week after week.

Those who saw George Curtis and Jackie Fargo defeat Dusek and Campbell in a tag match last week, probably figured it was a highly exciting tussle, with Dusek providing most of the boos and excitement.

However, that match will seem tame in comparison to this week, when the old Curtis-Cronin rivalry flares anew. Dusek, with all his usual style, and as a teammate, he has, instead of fairly-docile Campbell, the master villain, Cronin.

Englishman Wins Miracle Mile In Time Of 3:58.8

By JACK HEWINS

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 7 (AP)—The tall doctor from England, Roger Bannister, whipped John Landy and the clock to win the British Empire Games "Mile of the century" today in 3 minutes, 58.8 seconds.

Thus he became the first man in history to run the mile in less than 4 minutes on two occasions. On his heels, Landy finished in 3:59.6 in second place after leading the race up to the last 100 yards.

As Bannister crossed the finish line the great Landy was a little more than 3 feet behind.

The crowd of 35,000 jammed into Empire Stadium screamed in ecstacy as Bannister hit the finish line and collapsed into the arms of waiting friends.

The bouncng, howling fans realized as the time was flashed that they had been part of a historic moment—the first double running of a mile in less than 4 minutes.

Guards almost had to fight the crowd to keep it from pouring onto the field and joining the dozens who hoisted Bannister high and danced with him around the infield of the sunbathed arena.

Landy, Australia's great hope and the record claimant with a time of 3:58, set a torrid pace, leading at the end of every lap except the last. Early in the going, Bannister discarded any plans to let his fellow Englishman set the pace and stuck with the graceful Landy.

The great John L. took the lead in the backstretch of the opening lap and Bannister moved up from the pack to keep the Australian within challenging distance. He was only 5 yards back as they entered the last turn and Landy, flowing along in easy grace, seemed a certain winner.

Arms flapping, hair flying, Bannister shifted into high gear and ambled around the Aussie as they came out of the turn into the final 100 yards. Landy gave him a startled look as he went by, but couldn't call up a reserve of power to fight off the flying interne from England.

"I looked back on the inside," said Landy. "Just then he went by me on the outside. I shifted into high gear but couldn't catch him."

However, his first words were: "Was it a good race?"

Bannister, coughing heavily and for a long time after the race, could hardly talk. He had been fighting off a cold all through the training program.

Bannister said the race "went just as about as I expected." Landy asked Roger if he felt better than he had at Oxford when he ran his 3:59.4 world record mile. "Just about the same," Bannister replied.

As expected, the mile was a two-man race. It was thought that others in the field might set the pace in the early stages, but Bannister and Landy went to the front early in the first quarter and stayed there.

Rich Ferguson of Canada, who trained for this race plowing fields back home near Toronto, was a surprise third-place winner. He ran a steady third after the first 660 yards, but he was 35 yards back of the two great men at the windup. His time was 4:04.6.

Vic Milligan of Northern Ireland was at Ferguson's shoulder in 4:05 and little Murray Halberg of New Zeland, ranked as the world's fourth best miler, was run out and wound up fifth in 4:07.2.

England's Ian Boyld followed Halberg over the line and Bill Baillie of New Zealand was seventh. Dave Law of England did not finish.

Dodgers Falter As Redlegs Cop 5 To 4 Triumph

BROOKLYN, Aug. 7 (AP) — Joe Nuxhall relieved starter Bud Podbielan in the second inning and allowed the Brooklyn Dodgers only one run the rest of the way as the Cincinnati Redlegs came from behind for a 5-4 victory in a loosely played game at Ebbets Field today.

The defeat left the Dodgers four games behind the league leading New York Giants, who were beaten by Milwaukee.

Evening Out 1st All Way To Take Monmouth Oaks

OCEANPORT, N. J., Aug. 7 (AP)—Mrs. G. D. Widener's Evening Out, leading from pole to pole, returned to the top of the pack in the fight for filly sophomore honors by scoring an easy victory in the $63,000 Monmouth Oaks bfore 41,085 fans at Monmouth Park today.

Crafty Eddie Arcaro, aboard the daughter of Shut Out, sent last year's filly juvenile champion to the front at the start of the mile and eighth fixture and kept her there. They lead by as much as five lengths at one stretch of the distance.

Darby Dan farm's Clear Dawn, which scored a clear-cut decision over Evening Out in the Miss Woodford Stakes here a week and a half ago, finished second, two lengths behind, but never seriously threatened in her belated stretch drive. Happy Hill farm's June Fete placed third and Irene R. Martin's Miss Benz was fourth in the field of 14 starters.

Evening Out returned $5.20 as favorite and ran the distance in 1:50 1-5, one second off the track record set by First Aid earlier in the meet. The purse to Mrs. Widener today was worth $44,900, increasing her filly's earnings to $68,150 in seven starts this year and to $189,410 in her two-year career.

The hit that's changing the sales standings puts you way ahead 3 ways

THIS year Buick has done what no other car has done in more than a generation.

This year Buick has moved into the lofty circle of America's three top sales leaders—a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three." For today, Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation except two of these "low-price three." And each new month's sales figures strengthen Buick's new sales leadership.

You can't do better—if you want the best buy for your new-car money—than to look into the soaring success that is Buick today. You'll find this glamorous new-day beauty puts you way ahead in three important ways—that's for sure. So drop in on us—tomorrow at the latest—and see for yourself that Buick is the buy of the year, hands down.

1. More new car for your money

Buick prices start close to the lowest—just a few dollars above those of the traditional "low-price three." But those few more dollars for a Buick get you a lot more automobile—more room, more comfort, more V8 power, more ride steadiness, more solid durability—plus the advanced "tomorrow" styling that has taken the country by storm.

2. More money for your present car

With our great and growing sales volume, we can offer you a bigger trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. After all, the more new cars we sell, the better deal we can make with you. So you get the benefit of our great success in the form of a higher trade-in allowance.

3. More dollars when you trade

Because Buick's broad panoramic windshield has started a whole new styling trend, you can be sure that today's Buick will keep its modern look for years to come. So you are assured of a higher resale figure when you trade it in later on.

Come see for yourself why— Buick Sales are Soaring!

Braves Stall Giants; Indians Overpower Athletics

Milwaukee Nicks Polo Grounders For 4-2 Victory

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—A fluke single by Johnny Logan scored what was the winning run after homers by Bill Bruton and Ed Mathews, and Chet Nichols came through with some rally-killing ninth inning relief pitching as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the league leading New York Giants today, 4-2.

It was the second victory in as many days for the Braves over the Giants, who saw their lead cut to 3½ games over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The triumph boosted the Braves to within 8½ games of the leaders.

Bruton's leadoff homer in the first inning, his fourth of the season, and Mathews' No. 29 in the third, gave the Braves a 2-1 lead they carried through most of the game. But it was Logan's single through the box, on a swing he tried to cheek, that scored Joe Adcock from second with Milwaukee's all important third run in the eighth.

House Of Mack May Pass From Scene Within Week

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7 (AP) — Unless Roy Mack can turn up a last minute miracle the house of Mack is about to pass from the baseball scene—possibly next week—after 54 years of operating the Philadelphia Athletics.

The big questions in Philadelphia at the moment are: who will take over the Athletics, and will they remain a part of the third largest city in America?

At the moment the situation shapes up as a battle between the Kansas City combine headed by Arnold Johnson of Chicago, and a Philadelphia group bent on saving American League baseball for the city.

Johnson reportedly has offered $4,500,000 for the franchise and is ready to move the team to Kansas City, presently an American Association league home.

Harry Sylk, president of a large drug chain, and Albert M. Greenfield, real estate executive and financier, lead the local "save the A's" group. Sylk says he and Greenfield will meet with Roy Mack Tuesday to discuss their bid to acquire the team.

Sylk says his group will match Johnson's offer if the $4,500,000 figure quoted in the press is correct.

A reliable source reports that the Sylk-Greenfield interests will give the Mack interests—Roy, his brother Earle, and 91-year-old Connie Sr.,—$1,000,000 for their personal interests. The balance of a reported $6,000,000 will go into refurbishing the stadium and building the team from front office down.

The Big Eight's last round of play started today and the schedule closes August 17 with a Shaughnessy playoff to follow with two-of-three semi-finals and three-of-five finals.

Bernice appears on the way to clinching first place while Farmerville and Homer fight it out for second with Minden looking like the fourth place club.

The Ruston Ramblers, although in last place, have a young hustling ball club. The average age of the Ramblers is 19, and they lead the league in double plays with 35.

Umpiring in the Big Eight is also good this season with umpire-in-chief Troy Sharp of Haynesville, Roy Spicer of Monroe, and Frank Futch and W. C. Speights of Ruston.

By J. P. FRIEND
Cotton States Statistician

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Aug. 7. (Special)—El Dorado's Frank Walenga is practically all alone at the top of the Cotton States League.

The Oiler first baseman collected on 10 hits in 28 times at bat, four of them homers in consecutive games, and lost three points during the week ending Tuesday night, but his .381 batting average is 22 points better than his nearest competitor, Frank Shell, Greenville.

Wallenga appears to have his sights on making it a grand slam this season. He not only is the batting king bee, but has the most hits, most home runs, 23, most total bases, 242, and the most runs batted in. In the other plate phases he isn't doing too badly, either. He has 22 doubles and seven triples, scoring 80 times. About the only part of the game he doesn't come close to either leading or challenging is in the stolen base department. His total thefts is just two.

Shell took the worst tumble of the season during the last period. He faced the pitchers 26 times and could produce only four singles and a double that dropped his percentage to .359.

Pel Austin, El Dorado outfielder, went on another bat binge with a tremendous 27-14 that lofted his average 15 points to .343. He increased his doubles lead to 27. The big Oiler gardener is second in total bases, 207, and home runs, 18; has 91 runs batted in, third behind Walenga and "Moose" Shetler, Meridian.

Hugh Glaze, 1953 batting champion and Greenville keystoner, lost another five decimals and finished with .336. Hal Martin, another member of the Buck batting brigade, enjoyed a profitable plate sesion with 30-13 which gave him an 11-point shove to .328 and fifth. Hal bagged six two baggers in the first five games of the period July 27-31. He has 16 four masters.

Charlie Gates, Pine Bluff second baseman, fell 20 points to .327, while Bobby Scott, El Dorado, showed a minus six to .326. Steve Korfonta, Hot Springs, maintained his .323 gait, but teammate Frank Cooper bettered his to .317, up five.

Tommy Davis, Meridian manager, lost 11 points in four games to .312, followed by Luther Tucker, El Dorado, .306, a loss of six; Gene Pompelia, Meridian, .305, a gain of five; Merrill Smith, Pine Bluff., .305, down 11; Gene Oden, Pine Bluff, .302, minus six; Shetler, .301, down two.

One of the week's biggest gainers was Garry Anderson, El Dorado. The Oiler shortstop bagged 15 hits in 24 chances for a 25-point gain to .297.

Doug Kassay, Pine Bluff, who reportedly jumped the Judges, remains at the head of the triples list at a dozen. Banks McDowell, Greenville, needs just two tallies to reach the century mark in scoring. Leon Akers, Hot Springs, is just three walks away from the hundred figure. He has fanned the most, 103.

The week brought no change in the pitching standings, though most of the leaders bettered their already fine marks. Hal Cotle, Meridian, leads in percentage, .824, sporting 14 wins and only three defeats. Jerry Dean, Greenville rookie southpaw, is pressing with 9-2. Bobby Brown, El Dorado, whipped Monroe and Hot Springs, to boost his total winnings to 18, as against just five reverses. Three have been shutouts. Roy Jayne, Meridian, also cooped a couple, and has 16-7. Elmer Toth, El Dorado, won 14 and dropped five. Two other Oilers have chalked up 10 triumphs, Ken Yoke, 10-4, and Clyde Baldwin, 10-5.

SPORTS TIPS

By GENE

CLEANING CATFISH . . . One of our friends, a catfishermen of long standing, gave us this tip about cleaning catfish. Drive a sharp spike through a one inch board and use it to impale the head of the fish upon. Then with a sharp knife or razor blade cut the skin completely around the head of the fish just below the gills. It's then a simple matter to strip the entire skin off in a single motion without damage to the meaty flesh. Then off with the head and out with the innards and it's ready for the frying pan! If you have any handy fish cleaning tips stop in and tell us about them. We'll be glad to pass them along to other sportsmen, and or course, give you a "credit line."

The Bitterness Of Poor Quality
KILLS THE SWEETNESS OF LOW PRICE
This We Believe

IN THIS ERA of fancy claims about down payment gimmicks and big sales, we wish to go on record and state that no misleading tactics are used by our firm.

OUR SUCCESS is built upon the principle of treating every customer as we would want to be treated. All our cars are reconditioned and inspected by experts to assure you of a sound car mechanically and appearance-wise. The sale price of our cars is in line with the quality of the merchandise. Seldom do we ever get a complaint on the sale of one of our new car trade-ins.

TRULY we take a personal interest in all our customers and feel by giving sincere service to everybody, we make more friends. It is not unusual for a customer to bring his friends and relatives, knowing they will be treated fairly and squarely. Our business is negotiated with a feeling of true friendship.

WHEN BUYING your next car, see us, get a BETTER used car and join our club of happy owners . . . you'll never regret it.

McCarthy Declares Senate Critics 'Lack Guts' To Expose Communists

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 —UP— Sen. Joseph McCarthy told 2,000 cheering legionnaires Saturday that fellow senators trying to censure him are "nice little boys" who lack "the guts" to help him expose Communists.

Delegates to the Illinois American Legion convention shouted "pour it on" and "go get 'em Joe," as the Wisconsin Republican said the case of Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, suspended Army employe, proved he is right in his battle to root Communists out of the government.

"We have some nice little boys in the Senate now who spend their time debating on whether someone should do the skunk-hunting job which they don't have the guts to do themselves," he said.

The Moss case had been cited by Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.), as one instance in which McCarthy victimized an innocent person. Flanders is the author of the move to censure McCarthy.

McCarthy said the Army suspended Mrs. Moss a second time Wednesday because it feared that he had gained access to one copy of a report showing that she had been issued Communist party membership book No. 37260 for 1943.

Mrs. Moss' attorney disclosed the reason for the new suspension Friday in Washington, adding he was convinced Mrs. Moss never knew the card was issued to her. However, McCarthy said Saturday he was "telling for the first time" how the Army was forced to disclose the new suspension.

The FBI, he said, recently sent a new report concerning her to the Army and one afternoon all copies were called in. One copy was found missing and Pentagon officials feared "Joe had it," McCarthy said.

"Actually, I didn't but they were worried that I would expose the fact that the woman had a Communist party card," he said. "The Army promptly suspended her.

"The ironic thing is that within an hour they found the missing copy. That gives you some picture of what we're up against in this fight against communism."

McCarthy also took Allied nations of the United States to task for continuing to trade with Communist China while 32 airmen and 900 other military personnel are held, he said, in Communist hands.

McCarthy denied that he was squabbling with President Eisenhower on this point although he admitted that "it might sound like it."

"I think Ike is doing a good job as a whole and again, this is not an attack," he said.

McCarthy planned to return to Washington later Saturday.

He declined comment on a resolution adopted by the Illinois Legion withdrawing its support from the Girl Scouts of America on grounds that its 1953 handbook replaced patriotic American material with United Nations propaganda and that a scout magazine recommended pro-Communist authors.

10-Man Crew Of Refuelling Tanker Bails To Safety

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—The 10-man crew of a Hunter Air Force Base refueling tanker bailed out to safety early last evening before the big ship crashed on a training mission over French Morocco.

The plane left Hunter AFB, on the outskirts of Savannah, only a few days ago to take temporary occupancy of Sidi Slimane, U.S. Air Force Base in French Morocco, as part of the Air Force policy of maintaining global mobility of all Strategic Air Command units.

SAC's KC97 crashed about 25 miles north of Sidi Slimane. Members of the crew, all of whom parachuted to safety, include:

Capt. Raymond J. Cyr, aircraft commander, Aurora, Ill., and Huey J. Knight, assistant flight engineer, Boyce, La.

The four-engine plane, the air refueling version of the Boeing Stratocruiser, was assigned to the 2nd Bomb Wing at Hunter. It was on a routine training mission as part of the 45-day SAC mobility deployment to North Africa.

Tullier-Peterman Vows Are Said In Beautiful Church Ceremony In West Monroe

The marriage of Miss Patricia Anne Peterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Peterman of West Monroe to Mr. Joseph Scott Tullier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Edwards of the same city, took place in a beautiful candlelight ceremony at seven o'clock Saturday evening, in the First Baptist Church, West Monroe. Rev. Jaroy Weber performed the double ring ceremony.

White cathedral tapers illuminated the altar which was decorated with tall baskets of white chrysanthemums against a background of South American palm foliage which covered the bridal arch also. Pew markers of white blossoms and ribbon and white aisle cloths made floral lanes down which the bridal party passed.

Pre-nuptial music was played by Mr. Bob Oldenburg who accompanied Miss Betty Spurlock as she sang, "Because," "Through the Years" and, at the conclusion of the ceremony with the couple kneeling, "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Peterman escorted his daughter whose traditional wedding gown was an original model of white imported Chantilly lace over white satin. The fitted bodice with Queen Anne collar and wrist length fitted sleeves came to a point at the waist from which a tiered godet of fluted ruffles of lace and tulle cascaded to the hemline. A matching godet in the back draped into a sweeping court train. Her fingertip length veil of imported French illusion was fastened to a Juliet cap of seed pearls. Her bouquet on a white Bible was a white orchid surrounded by garlands of tuberoses embedded in tulle.

Miss Martha Nell Chappell of West Monroe was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Ione Hill and Mary Lou Trawick of Monroe, Miss Anne Provost, Mansfield, Miss Charlotte Haile of West Monroe.

All of the bridal attendants were attired in mimosa yellow crystalette empire dresses over taffeta, fashioned with deep necklines and bouffant ballerina-length skirts, matching mitts and headdresses, and carried baskets of orchid chrysanthemums.

Mr. James Vaughan of West Monroe served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Jerry Peterman, Mr. Bobby Lee, Mr. Spencer Edmiston, all of West Monroe and Mr. Arthur Matthews of Monroe. Candlelighters were Tom Clark of Bossier City, cousin of the groom, and Calvin Pipes of Bosco. Ronnie Evans of West Monroe was ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore a princess gown of azure blue linen lace over taffeta, sprinkled with rhinestones. Blue accessories and a Cattleya orchid corsage completed her ensemble. Mrs. Edwards, mother of the groom, chose white lace over pink taffeta with pink accessories and a Cattleya orchid.

The bride graduated from Ouachita High School and attended Louisiana Tech for two years as a pre-medical student. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. The groom, also a graduate of Ouachita, received his pre-dental education at Baylor University, Louisiana Tech and Northeast Louisiana State College. After a trip to the Gulf coast, Mr. and Mrs. Tullier will continue their educations at Emory University, Georgia, in the schools of dentistry and medicine.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Doerr, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Rogers, of New Orleans; Major and Mrs Jack Obus, Miss Sheila Obus, Fort Worth, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Futerfas, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Klefbeck, Dallas, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Hulon Huffman, Marshall, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickert, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spence, all of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs Curtis Clark and son, Tom, of Bossier City; Mrs H. L. West of Greensboro, N. Reception Held

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The rooms were decorated with effective arrangements of white chrysanthemums and carnations.

The bride's table, an exquisite antique, held the tiered wedding cake and a centerpiece of white carnations. Silver candelabra holding white tapers and a punch bowl were placed at the ends of the table.

In the receiving line with the bridal couple and their parents were members of the wedding party.

Mrs. Roy Brooks registered the guests in the bride's book at a table with appointments of white flowers and candles. Performing the other courtesies were Mrs. Alfred Horn and Mrs. H. L. West, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Curtis Clark, aunt of the groom, Miss Katherine Averett, Mrs. Marvin Hill, Misses Mary Alice Petty, Vera Lou Blazier, Sheila Obus, Fern Griffin, Geraldine Beck and Annette Proctor.

For travelling the bride wore a charcoal winter cotton suit with a white pique trim at the neckline and cuffs, white hat and gloves, black reptile shoes and bag. Her corsage was a white Cattleya orchid.

FREEZING DAIRY PRODUCTS

Housewives going away on vacation can put butter, homogonized milk and cream in the home freezer, say Department of Agriculture dairy specialists. The cream or milk should be frozen in waxed cartons or freezer containers rather than in glass bottles. Long frozen storage is not recommended.

If you dine outside, prevent your candles from smoking by coating them with a paste of thick soapsuds. Avoiding the wick, roll each candle back and forth between the well-soaped palms of your hands. Wipe off excess soap, let the candles dry, and they will burn evenly without dripping or smoking.

Wilkins-Kitchingham Vows Are Exchanged On Friday

The wedding of Miss Flora Lee Kitchingham and Mr. Jennings Hill Wilkins was solemnized Friday, August 6, at five o'clock in the afternoon at the First Christian Church of Monroe with Dr. R. T. Watson officiating.

The altar was banked with floral arrangements of white gladiolus and myraid white cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Betty Wroten, organist, accompanied Miss Betty Spurlock as she sang "Because," "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The candles were lighted by Miss Sammie Camp and Miss Janis Dyar who were wearing lovely white floor-length net gowns with bouffant skirts. They wore small button chrysanthemum corsages at their waist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, the Rev. R. B. Kitchingham, was attired in a white satin wedding gown featuring a collar and sleeves of chantilly lace. A fingertip veil of matching lace was attached to a satin and lace Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid bouquet.

Mrs. Charles Kitchingham was matron of honor. She was attired in a dress of pink net and lace. Her bouquet and headdress were of harmonizing flowers.

The Rev. W. P. Wilkins, the bridegroom's father, served as best man. Ushers were Denny Sullivan and Elvis Stout.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a pink linen and lace model with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother was wearing a blue lace dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white caladiums.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor.

Guests were received by the bridal couple, their families and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white lace cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake. White candles in silver holders were placed on each side of the cake. Arrangements of white daises and gladiolus also decorated the table.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Boyce Humble, served the wedding cake. Mrs. John Kitchingham presided at the punch service and Mrs. Grady Merriman was at the bride's book.

For traveling, the bride changed to a brown and beige shantung suit with brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple will make their home at 122 Riverbend Drive, West Monroe.

Two - skirt suits are shown by a St. Louis designer, following the two - pants trend in men's wear. The regular suit is of rayon worsted; the second skirt is a tone darker and made of rayon flannel.

Miss Wossman's Birthday Is Celebrated

The home of Misses Frances and Elizabeth Langford on North Fifth Street was the lovely setting for the Parker Memorial Class party when Miss Elizabeth Langford invited the hostesses to enjoy the hospitality of their home for the August party. Several reasons prompted the pleasures of the evening. It was Miss Julia Wossman's birthday. Miss Julia has been teacher of this class for many years. To honor her, the dining table was centered with a pink birthday cake with lighted candles surrounded by pink crape myrtle blossoms, pink light tapers on the four corners were bordered with pink ribbon with blossoms and maidenhair fern formed an artistic arrangement. The buffet was centered with a fan, spotted with sequins and surrounded with pink blossoms. Miss Maible Hood, president of the class, presented Miss Wossman with a gift of perfume wrapped in pink, with a miniature fan atop the package. Pink asters, caladeum leaves and pink florabunda roses were used throughout the home.

As the guests arrived they were invited into the flower garden, where Japanese lanterns and hurricane lamps were seen to advantage under the flood lights. After leisurely visiting, the members were invited into the living area where a brief business session was conducted. Miss Ola Mae Pennington, just returned from India, presented the class with a Bible purchased in Jerusalem, bound in Lebanon cedar. Miss Willie May Porter, director of Christian Education in LaGrange, Ill., and sister to Miss Juanita Porter, told of her interesting work in Illinois.

Attending the party were Miss Julia Wossman, Miss Ola May Pennington, Misses Willie Mae and Juanita Porter, Mrs. J. L. Seidenspinner, Mrs. Frank Guerriero, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. J. G. Peck, Mrs. W. A. Brandy, Miss Annie Butler, Mrs. R. E. Lucky, Mrs. Dell Robinson, Mrs. F. J. Willey, Sr., Miss Florence Powers, Mrs. S. C. Wise, Mrs. Alma Bushnell, Mrs. A. M. Barrett, Mrs. Lera Hennessy, Mrs. J. C. Kramer, Mrs. F. E. Black.

Also Mrs. A. W. Wilkins, Mrs. E. M. Wooten, Mrs. J. J. Joyce, Miss Ladell Duke, Mrs. H. B. Cruthirds, Mrs. Tom Miller, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. C. W. Williams. Guests were Mrs. A. S. Girl Scout News

Just a week from today those girls who have waited impatiently all the long hot summer will be heading westward to Camp Wawbansee for two weeks of fun and adventure in the out of doors. For many it will be a new venture, their first stay of any length away from home. Many of the girls have attended day camp, have been troop camping, have done resident camping under auspices of other organizations, but none has attended a Girl Scout established camp under the sponsorship of the local council. For this is the first attempt of the council to operate such a camp.

In five years the council has taken the final step toward providing the three kinds of camping for girls that the council charter obligates them to give. Five years ago only three or four troops had the fun of an occasional overnight camping trip. In 1950, after a lapse of a couple of years, day camping was begun again, using the Boy Scout camp until this year, when campers used Pine Wood, the Scouts own troop camp.

The next year saw Pine Wood, started by the Kiwanis Club and helped by other clubs and individuals fo the Twin Cities, opened for troop camping and special events the year round. And now the first established camp. For the site the council is renting Shreveport's Girl Scout camp. Located near Simsboro, the camp is nearer to Monroe than it is to Shreveport. In the hills of Bienville Parish, the camp site has everything one can want in the way of natural beauty; trees and shrubs, 138 different ones, someone has counted, a seven acre lake, just right for fishing and small enough that counselors can watch all the boats and canoes on the water, little streams feeding the lake and land that is hilly enough for variety. The name Wawbansee, we are told, means "mirrored waters", referring to the lake, whose waters reflect the surrounding slopes.

In addition to parents who will be taking campers to Wawbansee, the camp committee invites any interested persons to drive over next Sunday to look over the camp.

Some parents have expressed an interest in a two-week camp for daughter by next year. This is a good chance to look over the site and to see first hand how Girl Scouts camp.

To reach Wawbansee, drive 5.8 miles past the Simsboro sign. Turn left at the Camp Wawbansee sigh, about a hundred yards from the curving overpass east of Arcadia. Many motorists find themselves on the overpass, having missed the sign. In that event, they should turn around and head eastward, in which case they can't miss the sign. The camp is on a good road only a mile off Highway 80.

GRASS STAINS

Here's a simple solution to a common summer problem: to remove grass stains from white shirts, slacks or dresses, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests you use plenty of hot water and soap, and rub the stain well. If a yellow stain remains, apply bleaching fluid.

Cantaloupe Pickles

Watermelon pickles have long been a favorite spicy relish that housewives make at home, as a "specialty" to add zest to meals but not everyone knows that cantaloups, also, can be used for this type pickles. Here is a recipe just received from the L. S. U. Extension Service Food Preservation Specialist.

Ingredients: 3 pounds pared and cubed firm under ripe cantaloupe (4½-5 pints); 2 quarts limewater (that is, 1 tablespoon of "lime" or calcium oxide, purchased at drug stores, in 2 quarts water); 1 stick cinnamon about 3 inches long; 1 tablespoon whole cloves; 1 tablespoon whole allspice; 1 small piece ginger root; 2 cups vinegar; 1 quart water; 2 pounds (4 cups) sugar.

To make: Soak the prepared cantaloupe an hour in the limewater and drain. Cover with water and cook until tender — about 20 minutes. Let stand overnight in cooking water in a cool place and drain. Tie the spices in a thin cloth. Put them into a kettle with vinegar, water and sugar. Bring to boiling—add cantaloupe and boil gently 30 minutes. Let stand overnight. Cook again about 20 minutes, or until the melon looks "clear" or translucent, and the sirup is fairly thick. Pack the cantaloupe in clean hot jars and pour in the syrup, filling the jars to the top. Seal tight. (Makes 3½ pints of pickles.)

Night Life For Chickens

"Night Life" seems to agree with young, growing chickens, yet no explanation for it has yet been given. Anyhow, a USDA experiment showed that birds fed only during the 12 night hours weighed about 12 per cent more at 14 weeks of age than birds which ate their rations during the 12 daylight hours on the same feed intake.

There will be no Home Demonstration Club meetings during this month, as August is the month clubs are to have recreational meetings of various types including the entire family. — See you next Sunday.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: "As I try to follow Christ I find that I am an envious person. I did not realize it before. All others seem to have something on me. Some have so much better looks, and others have nicer clothes. My job is ordinary, but so many others have much better ones. I am jealous of those girls who have nice boy friends and I do not know whether I have a real boy friend or not. M. E. L.

ANSWER: From what you say you must be a very moody person. Of course, in that case, nearly everybody has something on you. The follower of Christ is vivacious and winsome; is interested in every body's welfare and "rejoices with them that rejoice, and weeps with them that weep." Piety is a grand old word that has come to bad days. Maybe you have tried to show your devotion to Christ by being pious in the present day sense of the word. You have looked inwardly instead of outwardly. "Introvert," is the word now used to describe that sort of person. Few introverts have been good Christians. And maybe your desire for a regular and steady boy friend has got mixed up with your acceptance of Christ, although that motive certainly is not all bad. You must come out of yourself. "Be content with such things as you have, for He (God) hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." When a neighbor succeeds, tell him truthfully that you are happy about it; when a girl friend finds a nice steady boy, tell her how nice you think he is - and mean it. When a friend gets a promotion in her work, be glad for her. You owe it to her. Soon, your outlook will change and you can share joys of others instead of being envious of them.

Chicago Tribune — New York News Syndicate, Inc.

Evangelist Of Note To Hold Revival Here

A well known evangelist, Rev. Ray Davis, Tulsa, Okla., will preach at the R. T. Williams Memorial Church of the Nazarene South Third and Beauregard, starting today. The series will last until August 15.

The services will be at 7:45 p.m. each night.

Reverend Davis is a forceful speaker and has been in evangelistic work for many years and has preached from coast to coast in the nation.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services. The Smith sisters will furnish music and the instrumentalist will be Miss Ester Quigley.

Music Features Services Held In W. Monroe Meet

Everybody loves music and that subject will be the theme Sunday morning at 8:40 and 10:50 at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe when Evangelist Angel Martinez speaks on, "Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven." Two services will be conducted Sunday morning because of gigantic crowds expected.

Last week Rev. Martinez addressed large crowds at all services and will continue services all this week. His subject for Sunday evening at 7:45 is "Stop the Sermon!" On Monday night he will reveal his most unusual life history.

In a dynamic address last Friday night he discussed the subject "Is Your Home On the Rocks Or On the Rock?" In developing the subject he outlined the duty of parents to children — love, discipline and example. The duty of parents to each other is love and affection, consideration and cooperation. Finally, the duty to God is to revive the family altar and revive the family pew.

Hundreds of friends throughout northeast Louisiana have come to hear this great evangelist and residents of the Twin Cities are invited.

REV. E. T. WAYLAND

Rev. Wayland Will Preach Here Sunday

Rev. Ewing T. Wayland, of Little Rock, Ark., will be the guest preacher at the two morning services next Sunday at the First Methodist Church in the absence of the pastor on vacation.

Dr. Wayland is one of the editors of the Louisiana Methodist and the Arkansas Methodist, two weekly church papers published in the Arkansas-Louisiana area presided over by Bishop Paul E. Martin.

A graduate of Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., and of the Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University Dallas, Rev. Wayland held pastorates in north Texas and north Arkansas before service as a U. S. Navy chaplain in 1944. Upon leaving the Navy in 1946 he became an editor of the Arkansas Methodist, and began publishing the Louisiana Methodist in 1951.

"Spiritual Power" will be the sermon subject at the 10:50 a.m. service. Dr. Wayland will also bring the communion meditation at the early communion service at 8:45 o'clock.

Rev. Oscar Cloyd, a ministerial student at Centenary College, and serving this summer on the staff of First Methodist Church, will preach a the 7:30 p.m. service on the topic, "Is Our Church Proportionately Sound?"

Bible Words for Today

NUMBERS 6:25—"The Lord make his face to shine upon you, and be gracious to you." (RSV)

What value we put on the fact that people notice us! To have someone whom we respect turn his face toward us in a crowd makes us tingle with happiness. When someone fails to see us, or to recognize us, we feel a sense of disappointment.

The message of the Bible may almost be summarized in the statement that God turns His face toward us. He looks upon us, "as a father pities his children." All the work of God in His relation to man is to show him His grace and favor. The love of God is the turning of God's face toward us with affection and with blessing.

The happiness of life has its source in the conviction that God cares for us. He not only looks on us, but looks out for us. In the light of His countenance we find comfort, guidance, peace. His smile is our joy.

BROILER MEAL

Beef on your budget? The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association suggests a broiler meal-in-one: cheeseburgers, french fries and baby squash halves. Use brown sugar and butter in the hollow section of the squash. Slide broiler pan into preheated broiler oven with top of squash at least eight inches from the tip of the flame. Broil ten minutes, then place cheeseburgers and two packages of quick frozen french fried potatoes on the same rack. Continue to broil 10 to 12 minutes longer. Turn potatoes once during cooking to crisp them evenly.

Garden Calendar Of 'Jobs' Ready

The calendar of garden jobs by months is ready for distribution. Call 3-2251 for your copy. I've tried to work in every job to be done every month of the year. Please take care of your copy. Find a safe place to keep this, such as inside attached to the closet or pantry door, in the encyclopedia or dictionary. Then you can refer to it easily when needed. Will presidents of garden clubs see that all their members, especially horticultural chairman, have a copy? This will take the place of the monthly garden letter I send. At least I'll not mail you one for a year or more since this calendar will give you the same information. Keep your notes in the calendar on the blank pages.

August Garden Jobs

When walking in my garden Sunday afternoon, I noticed how unattractive the violet foliage is at this time of year. Kind of beat-up looking - like our clothes in late summer. So - let's cut that foliage now. Get some long garden shears, grasp a hand full of leaves and cut as low as you can without cutting the roots. Fertilize with cotton seed meal and water in well. Then - come December when the plants start blooming, the foliage will be small but the violet stems long. You'll have more blooms and you can see them, instead of having a lot of foliage covering the blossoms. Marguerite Guerriero and Elizabeth Langford report fine results from following this practice.

Bearded iris foliage is dead about a third of the way down. It's time to cut this back in a fan shape and fertilize with bone meal. Cut out any dead foliage. The iris bed is one that must be kept weeded because this bulb will not stand much mulch. It causes rhizome rot and makes the soil too acid. Mrs. Gates uses a very light mulch of pine straw, advantageously, but she says don't use a heavy hand when putting this in the iris bed. Both iris and violet cuttings can be put in the compost pile.

A Recipe

Last Thursday Blanche Oliver charmed the TV audience with her clever wit, and her southern cooking. Blanche says it would take an octopus to make spoon bread and not turn the back on the audience. Many of you say you failed to get that recipe, so here it is.

Southern Spoon Bread

3 eggs, 1¼ pints milk, ½ cup cornmeal, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 heaping tablespoon butter, 1 scant teaspoon sugar.

Heat 1 pint of the milk to the boiling point in a double boiler. Stir in cornmeal gradually and cook until the consistency of mush- remove from fire, add the ¼ pint cold milk, butter, salt, sugar, baking powder and the well beaten egg yolks. Fold in the beaten whites (beaten stiff). Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake from 30 to 45 minutes at 350 degrees. The batter may be made up in advance, leaving out the baking powder and egg whites until just before cooking.

EGG HINTS

Eggs are on the plentiful food list and the price is lower than usual. Here are a few hints for keeping and cooking that delicious protein - iron food. Always pack eggs with large ends up. This helps keep the yolks centered better and gives more air space within the egg. When it comes to cooking the cackle fruit (as Fibber McGee calls it), low temperature is the secret to tender, delicious eggs. Remove them from the refrigerator, put them in cold water that comes one inch above the egg. Then, cover the pan and bring the water to a boil. Remove the pan from the heat and let the eggs stand in the boiling hot water for 20 minutes. This will help keep the dark rings from forming around the yolks. However, this is just an accumulation of iron and completely harmless. Put the eggs in cold water at the end of 20 minutes standing. To remove shells, tap and crackle the entire surface. Gently roll the eggs between the hands to remove the shell. Then hold the eggs under cold running water while peeling. The shells and membranes will come off very easily. A tablespoon of salt added to the boiling water will help the egg shell to come off easier, too.

Announcements

I'll be in Baton Rouge all this week, attending Farm and Home Week. Virginia Hargrove will bring you the regular home show on KNOE-TV Tuesday at 1:30. Don't forget to tune in. She will make three flower arrangements; a green one, one with fruits and flowers and one with just flowers.

Call 3-2251 for your "Calendar of Garden Jobs." Mrs. Fite and Mrs. Wills, our two very efficient secretaries will take your call and mail this out to you.

See you next week.

You can prevent tears in your mattress by covering it with a muslin cover. Place a mattress pad between the mattress and spring and between the mattress and sheet.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

Garden Like Enormous Carpet

NICE, France (Delayed) — The trip south to Toulouse was full of surprises. At Villendry, one of the ancient chateaux not far from Tours, there is a huge garden that covers several acres. The main garden which one looks down upon from very high terraces, looks like one enormous carpet. The design is made up entirely of clipped shrubs—several miles of large and small hedges all interwoven in fancy figures.

What an endless job of clipping and shaping. Every inch of this garden was sheared perfectly. The different shades of green made such a contrast with each other that you thought some of the plants were actually blue.

This ancient formal garden would not be at all practical in our day. We are lucky to have at least one of them to look at. The original garden is long since gone and the present one has been restored perfectly.

It is a real thrill to a gardener to see thyme and old fashioned lavendar growing wild along the road. On dry limestone hills in southwest France these plants seem to be growing right out of the ricks. This ought to be a strong hint to us to grow our lavendar in a well drained place in full sun and in a soil well supplied with lime. My experience has taught me that old plaster which has fallen from walls (you can find it on trash dumps) is an ideal form of lime for lime-loving plants. Perhaps it is not too strong and lasts a long time. You can mix this plaster with soil—one fourth plaster by measurement to three-fourths soil.

All through the middle of southwestern France there is a beautiful red poppy—even a redder one than the common one we know from Flanders fields. I am sure our farmers consider it a pest because it is thick in the grain fields. Of all the red poppies, the best one I ever grew was Papaver ruprifragum. You can find it in some seed catalogues. It something of a pest but beautiful. The important thing is that it loves heat and drouth—and we can supply both in the south! The news from home is all about heat and drouth in the south.

There was a very beautiful park in Toulose with many trees and flowers which we grow in Dixie.

We were very fortunate when we arrived at the ancient town of Arles. A form of "bull fighting" was just about to begin and we saw in an old Roman arean this fascinating sport in which many young athletes dash around the bull and try to remove a sort of necklace from between his horns. When the bull chases them, these agile young athletes leap over a fence to safety—sometimes with the seats of their pants ripped!

The French riviera from Toulon to the Italian border is one big flower garden. Since it rarely goes below about 50 degrees here in winter, sub tropical plants may be grown. Oleanders and Bougainville are in full bloom right now. This is one of the great flower growing parts of the world. The flower market here at Nice is two blocks long. Thousands of flowers are brought in every day and put on ton of blue lilies-of-the-Nile (Acapanthus) in one huge room!

I have been studying these flowers for some years. Letters from home say mine are in bloom, too. Some time back we published a full column on them. They are really from South Africa. The stems are two to three feet tall and the heads of blue flowers last from three weeks to a full month even in our hot summers. When I get back to England I have a date to visit a specialist in these flowers.

Garden Center Notes

Monroe High For Month

Congratulations to the Monroe Garden Club who won the high score award for the month ending July 13th. A check was presented to Mrs. V. H. Rivers, president of the club.

Now is the time to be thinking of your spring bulbs and ordering them for fall planting. Here are a few recommendations from Jo Evans who has already tried out these varieties in her garden. Early daffodils are diotime, a very early large trumpet, aerolite, a golden trumpet and silver star, an early white narcissus with a small cup. In the mid-season group, Carlton, tunis and fortune. Late bloomers include the cluster type of narcissus, Winter pride, Mrs. Mette O'Mulvent and silver chimes. The latter multiplies well for us. Very late bloomers are E. H. Wilson and geranium.

Those of you who don't subscribe to the Louisiana Garden Club News letter and the National Gardener dont 'know what you are missing. In the former we have all the state garden club news plus fine horticultural notes by Jo Evans which are written especially for this area. In the National Gardener we have news of what all the garden clubs are doing throughout the United States.

Mrs. Guy Kincaid of Winnsboro and Mrs. C. E. McKenzie of Monroe judged our flower show this week when the Flora Group of Monroe presented an all blue ribbon show.

In the arrangement class first place was awarded to Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr. White tree-coral used in a horizontal manner formed the graceful lines for Mrs. Sherrouse's arrangement. Variegated sansevieria and elaagnus followed the lines and the focal point was of yellow daylilies and yellow hibiscus.

Second place was awarded to Mrs. V. S. Garnett, for a beautiful line mass arrangement in tints of violet shading into red violet. Tall spikes of liriope blooms were used for height; delicate shaded pineapple - ginger lilies contained the line with a focal point of lavender asters and coleus in a red violet tone.

Third place to Mrs. Burt Shipp. In an interesting black container set on a black rectangular base, Mrs. Shipp created a lovely design using green and white caladium leaves, a rose-toned caladium leaf and rubrum lily as a focal point.

In the horticultural section, blue ribbons were awarded to Mrs. S. Q. Cobb for rice cactus (a rare variety), Mrs. R. R. Griffith for an ornamental pepper plant and Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr., for magnolia blooms.

Here is another foliage arrangement you might want to try, with materials available right now. Mrs. Verley Brothers made this one for the West Monroe library. For height use the rosy leaves of the new growth on the red-bud tree with a focal point of pink-toned caladium leaves in a low chartreuse container.

There has been much favorable comment on the description of church arrangements. Here are some lovely arrangements recently used in Wisner. For the Baptist Church a large symmetrical arrangement was made in a white urn. This was a cool symphony of pale green, chartreuse and darker green. Ligustrum with its new pale green berries formed the triangular pattern of the background with aspidistra leaves gracefully furled at the sides of the container. Chartreuse hydrangea blooms were featured with two lovely red-toned caladium leaves as a focal point and breaking the rim of the container. This was especially harmonious with the soft green walls of the sanctuary of the new church. In the Methodist Church a low round brass (drum shape) container was used. Graceful bare white painted branches established the pattern and two green and white caladium leaves formed a lovely background for chartreuse marigolds and pink crinum lilies flanked by darker pink zinnias and smaller pink and green caladiums. Sorry I don't know the arrangers' names.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: When will women learn that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach? I have been married for 25 years and still have trouble finding a clean place at the table at which to sit when I come home from work (the children eat before I come home). Also, I get questions as to how would I like some "this" or "that" instead of a meal already prepared and ready to serve. My wife has no outside job but it seems I, and my meal, come first only after her numerous phone calls to friends. Then she wonders why our home life is not pleasant. — Max.

My heart bleeds for you. Twenty-five years ago, uncle, you thought much differently than "the way to a man's heart, etc., and etc." It might just be, too, that your wife isn't darned interested in finding the "way," could be you haven't made it worthwhile. If having your meal served to you on time and at a clean place is of such vital importance, pick up that thing they call the telephone an hour before your lordship arrives home and settle the menu with your frau so she can get started. When you arrive, if your place isn't clean enough for you, put down a clean place - mat or napkin yourself. There is no law against a man helping himself.

Dear Mrs. Landers: We have a son, a very talented boy aged 22, who has two more years at college for a doctor's degree. He fell in love with a respectable, nice girl and wants to marry her in two months. She has one more year at college.

We have been giving him $200 a month for an allowance as we feel an education is the best investment we could make toward his future, although we both are working hard to do so. We feel we will continue giving it to him whether he is married or not. The girl's parents are well off. After first refusing any financial assistance, they finally decided to pay her tuition for her last year, pay for a big wedding and for her trousseau.

We feel they should skip the "big wedding," which is more for them than for her, and give the couple a car which they need. We feel, too, that they should help support their daughter as if they do not, we will be doing so. My son does not want to cause trouble. Is there no way to make the girl's parents contribute to the young couple's living expenses until our son gets his degree, particularly when they can easily afford it?—A Bitter Mother

Well, if you don't tie everything I have heard about blind, doting mothers whose child can do no wrong! Why should you be bitter and blame the girl's parents? Why can't you see the obvious? The girl's parents feel — and they should — that if these two kids insist on getting married they should be ready to support themselves; if they cannot, they should have the grace to wait until they can without sponging on their parents! If you and your husband want to continue to knock yourselves out to give your so his very generous allowance, that is up to you—the girl's parents do not have to be so foolish. They have not insisted that their daughter leave to get married; they prefer that she does not.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Reader Praises Marathon Feels Like New Person

Each year in August I print some of the letters which come from women who used my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon last January. Thousands of women send for Marathon the first of each year and it is always exciting when they write telling me the results they obtained.

I have found that word right out of the mou of recent experience is most encouraging and stimulating to other women who want to lose extra poundage but have procrastinated about doing so. Therefore, for a few days now, I am going to print some of the Marathon result letters in this column, along with some advice which the letters stimulate. Here is one of them:

A New Person'

"Dear Mrs. Lowman,

"I have completed my Eight-Week Marathon and feel like a new person. I am 5 feet, 2 inches tall and weighed 137 pounds on January sixth.

"I went to my doctor and had a check-up and a metabolism test which was low. On that date I began my dieting and the thyroid which he prescribed. I have lost 18 pounds, ½ inch from my bust 2½ from my waist, 4 from my stomach, and 2½ from my hips. I did this between January sixth and March third. Wonderful!

"I have four children between the ages of 3 and 12 and do all my housework and laundry and feel like doing it now. I was never the least bit fat until I had my third child and after she came I lost until I was almost back to my former weight.

"Then we had a most upsetting illness in our immediate family and, looking back, I can see why I gained 25 pounds in about three months. When I would think about the ill one, I would get nervous and eat and eat. In that way I established the habit of overeating."

Emotional Obesity

Congratulations to my reader. I know how much more she is enjoying life with the change in weight. Her letter brings up two points. First, remember that only a very small percentage of women are deficient enough in thyroid to require it. Only after several weeks of fruitful dieting with little or no result should you suspect this and then you should consult a doctor.

Second, this letter brings up the medically recognized possibility of emotional obesity. Emotional strains are often the cause of overweight. Investigate that possibility within yourself.

Once you get started on a self-improvement routine you will have a goal which is exciting enough to stiffen your willpower.

If you would like to have the directions which Marathon winners used send 10 cents and a stamped, envelope with your request for my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon Booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of Monroe World.

Tomorrow: "Two 65-Year-Olds Report Figure Gains with Marathon."

Schools To Open In Concordia Parish Sept. 6

VIDALIA, Aug. 7 (Special) — Superintendent Jesse S. Burris, of Vidalia, said that the opening of schools in Concordia parish, has been tentatively set for Monday, September 6, subject to formal approval of the school board.

The school board was originally scheduled to meet this month to approve the year's budget. However, since the data from the state department of education has not yet arrived because of some changes made by the recent session of the legislature, the school board may not have occasion to meet until after the opening of school.

Supt. Burris has also recommended the following holidays and vacation periods for the coming year: holidays, the Friday after Thanksgiving and Good Friday; and vacation periods, Christmas vacation from dismissal hour December 17 to January 3, 1955.

All children entering the first grade are required to have a birth certificate this year, the superintendent said. A child born in Louisiana will be given a 15-day period of grace to bring such a certificate or copy. A child born in a foreign country may use a passport or naturalization papers for evidence of the date of birth. According to the law now in existance a child may enter the first grade if he will be six years old within four months from the date of the opening of school. In Concordia parish a two - week period beyond that time is allowed for registration.

However, a new constitutional amendment will be voted upon in date of opening of school. In November, which if passed, will require that a child may enter the first grade if he will be six on or before December 31 of the year in which he is entering school.

From 1949 to 1953, there were 29 fatal boxing injuries in the United States.

March Of Dimes Research Grants $618,936 In La.

Louisiana scientists have received a total of $618,936.17 in March of Dimes financed research grants for the fight against polio, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today.

The grants have financed virus research, studies into the after effects of polio, polio prevention studies and education of professional personnel needed to care for the polio patient. Research work in polio in Louisiana has been carried on by Louisiana State University, Tulane University and Dillard University.

"Louisiana scientists have an important role in the nationwide fight against polio," a foundation spokesman declared.

Parish chapters of the national foundation throughout the state were busy this week with plans for conducting an emergency March of Dimes August 16-31.

The foundation entered the year 1954 with a need for $75,000,000 to carry on the widespread programs of patient aid, research, education and the new activity of polio prevention. The March of Dimes last January, although the greatest in history, fell some $20,000,000 short of the need.

The deficit poses a severe threat to the foundation's longtime program of providing financial aid to polio patients, and therefore the serious status of the polio program will be presented to the people in an emergency campaign.

March of Dimes research grants in Louisiana have been made over a 15-year period. Of the $618,936.17 total, more than $150,000 covers research projects still under way.

Social Security Changes Not Yet Revealed Here

J. Dodd Brooks, manager of the Monroe social security office, said today that the proposed changes in social security monthly benefits now being considered by congress have caused a number of people to contact the Monroe office for details.

Brooks emphasized that no definite information is yet available at his office about how possible changes in benefits may affect any individual.

If changes are made in the social security law, all persons receiving monthly social security checks will be notified directly. Thus, it will not be necessary for them to contact the Monroe office about their possible new benefit amounts at this time.

Brooks urged all beneficiaries to await notice direct to them instead of contacting the Monroe office about increases. This action will make it possible to handle current work much faster and will in no way be to the disadvantage of those now receiving monthly checks.

NEVILLE HIGH STUDENT Nancy Ledbetter chose the Palace as the place to select all her shoes for the school year. Naturally, her first choice is the Old Maine Trotter loafers she's wearing. Shoe department manager Louis Masur, Jr. is recommending as her second pair a black suede Demosette with the new pencil heel and jewel trim.

Catholic Schools In Monroe In Retrospect

The year 1866 saw the inception of the Catholic School system in Monroe. In February of that year three Daughters of the Cross namely Sister Theresa of Jesus, Sister Loretto and Sister St. Joseph were missioned as teachers from Shreveport by Mother Mary Hyacinthe, upon the request of St. Matthew's first pastor, Father Louis Gergaud.

In 1928 St. Hyacinth's Academy changed from a private institution of learning to a parochial school owned and financed by members of the St. Matthew's parish, though still under the tutelage of the Daughters of the Cross.

This September as the school opens anew its doors for another session of labor and service in the education of Monroe's youth, the Community of Sisters who staff the venerable institution have triple cause for rejoicing:

First: It will mark the Sisters' Centenary Jubilee of 100 years of teaching in Louisiana schools.

Second: It will be the 89th year of their services in Monroe.

Third: It is the golden anniversary of one of their most revered members, Sister Magdalen of the Sacred Heart, who has given 50 years of instruction and labor in the schools of her order with more than 30 of these spent in Monroe Catholic schools.

As one of the sisters describes it: "As we glance over the vista of years that rise to glorious climaxes, we are reminded of the tremendous value and import of lives that are dedicated to the cause of education and the church. And as we mark the events of progress that have marched with the passage of time, we somewhat partially realize the wealth and glory of the heritage that Providence has designed to grant us."

The Sister will soon return to Monroe to open the fall term of school. They invite Monroyans, patrons, friends and benefactors to join in since thanks to God for his countless benedictions in past success that have marked the progress of these schools.

LaSalle Schools Open On Aug. 30

JENA, Aug. 7. (Special)—School bells for the 1954-55 session of public schools in LaSalle parish will ring bright and early Monday morning, Aug. 30, with approximately 3300 students to be enrolled in the elementary and high schools of the parish, it has been announced by F. H. Shiel, superintendent of LaSalle parish schools.

"There is every indication that this school session is to be one of the best for LaSalle parish, with a staff of well-qualified teachers and with a school program that is most outstanding," Mr. Shiel said.

SUMMERTIME WHITE

Emphasize white! White is everywhere in the good old summer time — but it's only as white as you keep it. One of your best aids, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, to make it fairly sparkle is bead-bluing added to your hot wash water. It will keep your whites fashionably bright—and it will do just as good a job on your colors, too!

2. DOES COMMUNISM HAVE SPECIAL PSYCHOLOGICAL APPEAL TO NEUROTICS? YES ☐ NO ☐
CARL MARX
3. CAN YOU PRAY AS REVERENTLY STANDING AS KNEELING? YES ☐ NO ☐

8-7

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Decidedly true, says Richard Husband in his fine, practical book, "Psychology of Successful Selling." Selling a $125 suit or a $4000 car requires more knowledge, greater enthusiasm, more hard work,, more desire by the customer, better personal qualities in the salesman — dress, manner, language, and personality. In big sales you must sell desire, comfort, social prestige, sex appeal. Dr. Husband tells you how.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Yes. Robert Lindner says in "Psychoanalytic Journal" (paraphrased), "Not all communists are neurotics or all neurotics communists, yet communism offers the neurotic a tailor - made cloak in which he can escape the problems which he cannot solve. It's not so much the theories of communism as the party that he thinks of as sanctuary for his troubled soul."

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Not usually. Sometimes men can "pass the ammunition" and pray at the same time, but it is not the best situation for reverence. Psychologist Rucknick says a prayerful bodily attitude tends to induce a prayerful mental attitude. We pray with our bodies as well as with our minds.

Beauty Contest Winners Not Necessarily Stars

By VIRGINIA MAYO
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, August 7 — If you will permit me, Jimmie, I'll devote much of this article to a subject that has puzled me through the years. I have looked askance at the practice of attempting to make Hollywood stars out of beauty contest winners overnight, and I have observed that the method can — and sometimes does — lead to "disillusionment, frustration and heartbreak."

The best thing that ever happened to me career-wise is that I had to come up the hard way. Sky-rocketing to stardom without benefit of elementary, tough experience is unfair to the new actress.

One of the biggest heartaches I ever saw in Hollywood was that of a beautiful, young contest winner who received a big build up only to fail miserably at her first try at a film, because she wasn't ready.

I have always been an ardent booster for full utilization of studio drama schools. If any aspiring hopefuls come my way, I always advise them to build up confidence through fundamental experience on the stage or other entertainment media, before knocking on the portals of Hollywood. I believe in speaking out and telling these people the truth. Why mislead them, whether through ignorance or otherwise? We who are in pictures certainly know it is no easy road to the top, once we are in—and to get in demands that we have more than just facial beauty and an intriguing figure. The day for that sort of thing went out of the window 30 years ago.

I do not like to discuss my own experience, and yet I feel that the obstacles I was called upon to overcome are similar to those confronting others. I began acting at an early age. I progressed through the nightclub and vaudeville circuits, and finally was discovered by Eddie Cantor for his Broadway show, "Banjo Eyes." Eddie always told me that someday I'd thank him for all the hard work he cut out for me — and I have always been grateful to him. He taught me that hard work would solve our acting problems, provided we possessed a certain degree of latent talent. He was a good coach. He gave me many pointers that in subsequent years have been invaluable.

Then it was in Billy Rose's night club "The Diamond Horseshoe" in New York that Samuel Goldwyn saw me on the stage. He arranged for me to come to Hollywood, and in 1948 I joined Warners and have been there ever since.

I never got a chance to show I could handle drama until I was cast in "The Best Years of Our Lives," but when I got the chance the lessons I had learned through hard work in small parts now paid off.

I'd say any young actor or actress would do better to have solid groundwork before moving into the film whirl. Recently, I've run into several fine actors making their first screen appearances, after valuable experience on the stage—and things are coming easier for them. Further, the chances of sticking are infinitely better. I will specifically refer to Paul Newman, my current leading man, who starred on Broadway in "Picnic" and turned down a number of film offers before accepting the top role in "The Silver Chalice," now in the making at Warner Bros. Paul Newman looks like a real comer.

Now I must get back to my original theme. It has been my privilege to know many of the beauty contest winners who have journeyed here with high hopes and beautiful dreams.

All beauty contests seem to point towards Hollywood. The winners, whether it is a national event, or whether local, are deliriously happy. Not all, of course, attempt to crash the movies. They are content to accept the adulation of the hometown folks. But thousands do almost immediately start towards filmland.

There are contests, such as the Miss Universe event, that definitely have Hollywood affiliations. If the winner, in this case, lacks in dramatic experience, the studio sends her to its drama school. She is given every opportunity to make good as an actress, not wholly as a contest winner. She succeeds or fails on her ability to adapt herself to the screen, and to develop whatever talent she may have, theatrically speaking. With this sort of arrangement, I have no criticism. Only the highest praise. The studio is doing its utmost to make of the beauty winner a fine dramatic artist.

Many off-beat producers, so-called, often engage contest winners and promise them stardom—and in more cases than I care to remember, or even mention, the hook-up is a failure. If the girl ever reaches the screen, her work is so amateurish that her chances of success are hampered, if not killed outright. My advice I'll repeat to girls in this bracket: Be proud of your conquest and your contest honors, but make sure you know something of acting before you invade Hollywood. If some legitimate studio is willing to enter you in its drama school, then you're making headway. You have as good a chance as any other girl. Thank you, Jimmie. That's my little sermon today.

'Gambler From Natchez' Next Paramount Picture

The exciting and colorful life of New Orleans around 1840, combined with the tension aboard a Mississippi gambling ship provide the highlights of Panoramic Productions' "The Gambler from Natchez," starring Dale Robertson and Debra Paget, which is the next attraction at the Paramount Theatre.

Having just completed her earthy role in Panoramic's "Princess of the Nile," Miss Paget shows her versatility by now playing a riverboat captain's daughter who tries to aid Dale Robertson, a young cavalry officer, in his man-hunt. Her affections for him are challenged by co - star Lisa Daniels, which results in the two girls engaging one of the highlight scenes of this action - packed film.

Dale Robertson again shows the physical prowess he possessed in "Return of the Texan" and "Lydia Bailey" as he encounters such adventures as riding, fencing, scaling a three - story wall, and being stabbed in the back and knocked off a horse.

Producer Leonard Goldstein took a large crew and supporting cast to the San Fernando Valley where beautiful riverboat sequences were shot, and to the Baldwin Estates in Pasadena where an exciting duel is fought. These and other scenes, all shot in Technicolor, provide a picturesque background for this out - door drama.

Heading a fine supporting cast is Thomas Gomez, who lends his skills to the role of a dissolute gambling ship owner. Also featured are Lisa Daniels as the sister of one of the villains, and Kevin McCarthy, Douglas Dick and John Wengraf who portray the three southern aristocrats responsible for the crime.

Under the masterful guidance of Director Henry Levin, a young man noted for meticulous attention to detail, "The Gambler From Natchez" realizes the full potentialities of an intriguing script prepared by Gerald Drayson Adams and Irving Wallace. Among Mr. Levin's previous assignments were such box office hits as "The President's Lady," "Mr. Scoutmaster" and "Jolson Sings Again."

For Mr. Adams, it marks the second consecutive story in which Miss Paget starred, having previously written "Princess of the Nile."

"The Gambler From Natchez" will be released by Twentieth Century - Fox.

Works constantly to stop TOOTH DECAY! One brushing with New Colgate Dental Cream guards against tooth decay for 12 hours or more. Night and morning brushings guard your teeth all day—all night. In this way, Colgate's Gardol works around the clock to stop the action of decay-causing enzymes. In full-year clinical tests, X rays showed far fewer cavities for the hundreds of people in the group using Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol. In fact, no new cavities whatever for 4 out of 5.

GARDOL

Colgate's miracle ingredient makes it doubly effective!

HOW GARDOL WORKS: Every time you brush your teeth with New Colgate Dental Cream, Gardol binds itself to your teeth...remains active for 12 hours or more. That's why Gardol, Colgate's long-lasting anti-enzyme ingredient, gives you the surest protection against tooth decay ever offered by any toothpaste—leaves your mouth cleaner, fresher for 12 hours or more! Gardol's protection won't rinse off, won't wear off, all day. Thus, morning and night brushings with New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol give continuous protection around the clock.

WHAT'S THE DEAL WITH THE FLOAT PLANE ?

SOME LIGHT COLONEL NAMED CANYON CAME HERE TO BE CHECKED OUT IN IT! HE'S BEEN WRINGIN' IT OUT 'TIL THE RIVETS ARE ABOUT TO POP!

LATER - AT AN AIR TRAINING COMMAND INDOCTRINATION POINT FOR NORTH-BOUND PERSONNEL...

FOG, OF COURSE, IS ONE OF THE PRIME DANGERS IN THE REGION.

THERE ARE DAYS OF INSTRUCTION BY VETERANS OF DUTY IN THE POLAR AREA

UNDER POLAR CONDITIONS THE AVERAGE MAN NEEDS 5,000 TO 5,500 CALORIES PER DAY TO MEET THE INCREASED ENERGY EXPENDITURE AND THE MAINTENANCE OF BODY HEAT... SO YOU WILL GO HEAVY ON THE CARBOHYDRATES AND FATS...

AND MORE

KEEP THE WARM AIR IN AT YOUR NECK, WRISTS AND ANKLES, BUT NEVER WEAR TIGHT CLOTHING — ESPECIALLY AROUND THE JOINTS... TENSION AT SHOULDERS, HIPS ELBOWS AND KNEES WILL SHUT OFF THE BLOOD SUPPLY AND MAKE THAT AREA MUCH MORE LIKELY TO FREEZE...

AND MORE

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN 'FLIES' UNTIL YOU ENCOUNTER THE JET FIGHTERS DISGUISED AS MOSQUITOES, BLACK FLIES, DEER FLIES, MIDGES, AND SO ON, UP NORTH...

AND MORE

IN COLD WEATHER A BEARD IS A LIABILITY! MOISTURE FROM YOUR BREATH COLLECTING ON IT WILL CONVERT IT INTO A VIRTUAL ICE MASK WHICH MAKES THE THAWING OF FROSTBITE ON THE FACE VERY DIFFICULT...

AND STILL MORE

I CAN USE A BREAK...I WONDER IF THAT COUNTRY IS AS ROUGH AS THESE JOKERS MAKE IT SOUND?

I HEAR THE ONLY REASON THE RUSSKYS DON'T ATTACK US OVERLAND IS THAT THEY DREAD COMIN' THROUGH THAT WAY!

BUT MEANWHILE — IN THE COUNTRY BEING DISCUSSED — ALL IS NOT SO DIRE AS IT SOUNDS...

LEMME IN — I GOT MONEY.

THERE IT IS - ALL MY PAY IF YOU'LL JIST DANCE ONE NUMBER WITH ME!!

KEEP YOUR MONEY, MISTER! I'VE GOT OTHER THINGS TO DO! BUT IF I FEEL LIKE DANCING I'LL SEND FOR YOU — AND THE DEAL WON'T COST YOU A DIME!

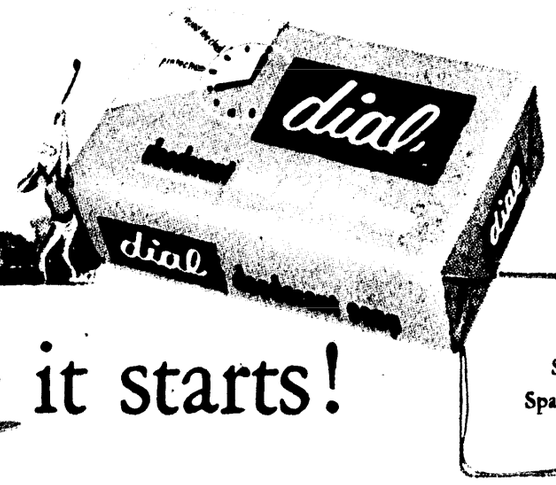
Aren't you glad you use DIAL Soap?

(...don't you wish everybody did!)

Dial with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene) removes the cause of perspiration odor—keeps you nice to be around all day!

When you're with others—hard at work indoors, or playing hard outside, you never worry about perspiration odor when you use Dial. It's the wonderful soap that contains AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). Dial's the only leading soap that has it, and there's nothing else as good at removing skin bacteria that cause odor.

Dial keeps these trouble-makers away, too. For Dial's invisible AT-7 clings to your skin for days; its protection increases, the more you use this rich-lathering soap. Depend on it—Dial stops odor before it starts, and keeps it stopped all over, in a way no other leading soap, no deodorant can equal. So when you use mild, fragrant Dial, you stay clean and fresh and nice to be around all day. Better get some more Dial Soap today.



Photomicro Proof

These photomicros show you what a wonderful difference Dial makes. No. 1 shows how washing with ordinary soap leaves thousands of skin bacteria. They cause odor. No. 2 shows how washing daily with Dial Soap removes up to 95% of these trouble-makers. And Dial keeps them away.

Tales from the Great Book

DANIEL'S FAITH

KNOWING THAT HE CAN BE SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR HIS ACTIONS, DANIEL STILL REFUSES TO BOW TO KING NEBUCHADNEZZAR. NOW ALL WAIT FOR NEBUCHADNEZZAR'S NEXT WORDS ....

AFTER A THOUGHTFUL PAUSE NEBUCHADNEZZAR TURNS TO HIS AIDES. "MARK WELL THIS YOUTH WHO SPEAKS HIS MIND, UNAFRAID."

"...WHEN HIS THREE YEARS OF STUDY ARE FINISHED, HE WILL BE THE GREATEST SCHOLAR...AND BRING HONOR TO MY NAME — AND TO ALL BABYLON!"

"I SHALL MARK HIM WELL, INDEED," UT-HAMASH MUTTERS TO HIMSELF. "FOR HE IS A DANGEROUS THREAT TO MY PRIESTHOOD!"

AND THE EVIL PRIEST LEAVES, DARK SCHEMES FORMING IN HIS SERPENT-LIKE MIND!

NOW DANIEL, HANANIAH, AZARIAH AND MISHAEL ARE ASSIGNED ROOMS OF THEIR OWN IN THE PALACE — ROOMS FIT FOR A PRINCE!

AND SUMPTUOUS FOOD IS BROUGHT TO THEM...FOOD FIT FOR A KING -- FOR IT IS FROM THE KING'S OWN LARDER!

LIKE MOST BOYS - WHO ARE ALWAYS HUNGRY - THE YOUTHS RUSH TO THE TABLES OF STEAMING RICH FOODS.

"BUT WE CANNOT EAT THIS FOOD," DANIEL SAYS. "FOR IT IS NOT PREPARED UNDER OUR LAWS." "BUT THIS IS A ROYAL ORDER," SAYS MELZAR, THE STEWARD..." IF YOU DO NOT EAT...I WILL LOSE MY HEAD!"
